Prairieland Talk . . .

Spare That Church Bell!

By ROMAINE SAUNDERS, Retired, Former Editor The Frontier

MARION, IND .- Again a destroying hand is raised to violate the memory of the pioneers and tear from its roots another landmark in O'Neill! Memories of Editor James H. Riggs, of Doctor Corbett, of Mrs. Waldo Adams, of Mrs. Wes Evans, and others of a bygone day who gathered weekly to bow the knee in their consecrated shrine at what is now known as Everett and Second streets. Marching down athe avenues of time come another generation to lay a ruthless hand upon the Presbyterian church, rend it apart and let the memories of more than 70 years be buried with the remains. This generation of disciples of John Knox sees the need of a new edifice to replace the old. That may be symbolic of all that religion means-destroy the old life of sin and put on the robe of righteousness to walk in newness of life. "And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever."

I am not a Presbyterian. That is not important -but just one of the millions of earth who anchor their souls on the Rock of Ages. Destroying hand, spare that bell that hangs in the tower!

It was presented as a gift to the church by one of the original Gen. John O'Neill colonists, Col. Neil Brennan. Nor was he a Presbyterian!

A DeKalb county farmer reports a yield of 241 bushels of corn to the acre from a five-acre field, which seems to be the extent of a corn field in the Hoosier state.

Indiana has a town known as Brazil. That town has a Pentecostal place of worship. One gent went to the temple not to worship, but wanting a fight. In court he was fined $1,003 and stowed away for 60 days on a charge of being drunk and punching the preacher in the nose as he stood in the pulpit. . . Elected to take office with the beginning of the year the salary that goes with the job has been cut $1,000 a year at the request of the Arkansas patriot who takes over the job. . Eleven of Indiana's 24 counties are said to ignore civil defense activities, . . Driving down the highway, a motorist noticed something speed past him and a drop in the rear of his car. A wheel had come of, rolled along the highway, struck a rock, bounded over it and landed in a few feet of water; the car caught fire which was put out, the wheel fished out of the water, bolted again to its place and the gent proceded on his way-an incident of life on the highways.

Twenty-three representatives of young America university life from 17 to 20 years of age, including three coeds, were arrested and fined $17 each. They had been having a road party with bottles of John Barleycorn the guests.

The day is cold. It is the time of snow and ice, when hoar frost weaves a lacey pattern on window panes, when old men sit by the firelight or as the moderns have it, by a hole in the floor, while outside boys on their sleds scoot down the hill. The blush and bloom of autumn colors now lie dead under an undefiled blanket of white where it has escaped the defilement of tramping feet and busy traffic. A lone tree amid a forest that has been stripped to the nude lifts its leafy boughs in motionless defiance of winter's chill. The heat and sweat of summer days left us wilted and now stepping out into winter cold we hustle along to keep warm. But the unspoiled picture of nature on a winter morning after a night's snowfall is worth bundling up and going out to see.

Editorial . .

an Iowa editor.

a lady in the nose.

The second helping of toast and eggs for breakfast will soon be available. The authority on such things down at Washington, D.C., has given out some secrets the nation's hens are up to. Egg production for January is set at five billion 720 million. . . A circuit judge at South Bend rules that Indiana justices of the peace have no authority to act in matters involving traffic violations.

. . . Another provision of Indiana law permits a female of the gutter to have guy fined and sent to jail on a charge of rape. . . Printers usually get what they go after, but this one didn't-instead he landed in court on a charge of "disturbing the peace." The peace disturbed was that of a fair young lady reporter on the La Porte paper where the printer worked. He had sought the lady's hand in an ungallant way and was rejected.

One of the city's many large churches was inadequate to hold the crowd that came out on a gloomy Sunday evening to hear and see community singers render that popular yuletide musical drama, "Messiah." My daughter-in-law being in the oratorio group was an added incentive for us to attend and after standing out in the cold for some time we found places in the basement rooms where the singers could be heard.

Ladies out McCook way have their six-shooters loaded and are in waiting for the Nebraska legislature to convene when they plan to march in at the statehouse and demand at gun point-nothing more formidable than camera snapshots-that we have another law, something about a road down there in Red Willow. The men and women who established communities on prairieland in the long ago as well as in more recent times, rolled up their sleeves and went at it with bare hands. "There ought to be a law" is the demand now. Committees, associations, conservation and watershed groups, societies, leagues, and what have you have become a pain in the neck-all holding out capacious paws for a dip in the public money bag. Are you getting yours? Good luck to the matrons from McCook!

Indiana is a stronghold of the GOP. However, the democrats have reached into this stronghold and selected a party patriot, Paul Butler, to head their national committee.

In the neighborhood of this Indiana city where Prairieland Talker is enjoying life for the moment there are a dozen or so new houses in the process of being put together. I say put together as that seems to be it. The house is brought in sections by great trucks from a distant Indiana city and signs on the trucks also convey the information that the concern turning out the prefab houses has a setup at a place known as Horseheads, N.Y. One such house across on another lot was reared on the scene yesterday. Another near- February 3. . . Mail ordering is by was unloaded this morning and by noon was the best way to buy automobile liready for the roof. I see out the window an arm of cense plates to avoid those long a great crane swinging back and forth, busily queues at the county treasurer's making over the earth for the planting of another office: Be sure to enclose three

The mayor of Erie, Pa., one of 36 indicted, has been convicted of connection with a gambling gang that has been pulling official legs.

The outburst of an Alabama state senator gives a picture of the Negro question in the deep South. Blood will flow, he says, if a colored student tries to enter a public school of the whites, defies the United States government and the military forces of the nation. And he goes the limit when he says the goal of the National Association for the Advancement of the colored people "is to open the bedroom door of white women to Negro men."

News, Views and Gossip BY THE EDITOR

Gobbledygook

Our policy is to file in the etters to the editor.

But "Hank" has forwarded to us a rather amusing and harmless thing better, we reproduce as fol-

Orchurd, Nebr.

Deer Cal: You want news & I got news. It raned & snowed heer for 3 moths we been dry heer. Maby not so dry as down in Texas. Whar I heer the pore people haf to wash thar own Cadilaks, but no water to wash in, but dry just the same. It got so bad, finely even the water wuz dry Efen last winter the snow wuz so dry they pushed it off the streets in town and burnt it.

I bin haling water from town to my cows for over 2 moths, and lately cudent get enuf water to 'em by haling day & night. I sent a sampul uv the water to the state. Aund thy ansert rite bac. The sampul wuz under 20% moischur. No wonder the cows wuz giving powdert milk. Got so cud milk lot of times in a paper

If you wonder why yure getting a letter frum me heer at Or- the title and elevation to right churd, well my brothur works in reverend monsignor. . . The counthem masheery places. He took ty drought committee called a ing if somtimes you want the yusirs slant on mascheery & we can shure giv it heer. You never have seen useder masheery than thar is around this naybur-

Just rite and tell me what you like to no & I'll see if the naybers as county agent of Holt county & I can't come up with sum news. The whether has finlly chaged for ghood. Shees raned

HANK

Miscellany

& snowed heer.

The boys bidding on the Garriparently had the decimal point in a the wrong place-there was a onemillion-dollar error and all bids were called off. . . O'Neill merchants have been very much pleased with the yule business. . . A phone call the other day inquired about the next Community Concert: Samuel Sorin, pianist, Thursday, in October. . . Marine 2/Lt. Richcopies of motor vehicle tax notices (to be received in mail), 1954 registration certificate, your check covering taxes, plates and 23 cents postage. . . Merry Christmas, everyone!

-CAL STEWART

Nativity Scene Is Used at Meeting

PAGE - Last Thursday was guest day when the Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist church parlors. About 40 were present. A short meeting was conducted by Mrs. Elmer Trowbridge. After a prelude of Christmas music, Mrs. Herbert Steinberg led the devotions. She used the characters of the nativity scene when she gave the lesson, "The Christmas There was group singing with Mrs. John Lamason as accompanist, when the first verses of several Christmas songs were sung. Mrs. Steinberg, Mrs. Edgar Stauffer and Mrs. Harry Harper gave a one-act play, "Keeping Christ in Christmas." A reading, "The Herald Angels Sing," was given by Mrs. J. R. Russell. Mrs. Raymond Heiss and Mrs.

Harriet Carson were hostesses Christmas decorations were used for the tables. The next meeting will be an all-day session with a overed dish luncheon at noon.

Miss Mary Kathryn Coyne of San Francisco, Calif., Dr. Nadine Coyne of Rochester, Minn., and Miss Veronica Coyne of Chicago, Ill., plan to arrive Friday to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs.

MILLER THEATER

- Atkinson -

Dec. 24-25

Dec. 26-27-28

Dec. 29-30

Wed.-Thurs.

Established in 1880 - Published Each Thursday Entered at the postoffice in O'Neill, Holt county, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. This newspaper is a member of the Nebraska Press Associa-

Bureau of Circulations. Terms of Subscription: In Nebraska, $2.50 per Those who wondered what public issue would | year; elsewhere in the United States, $3 per year; arise to take the place of debate and discussion of rates abroad provided on request. All subscriptions

nounced he was going to tell youngsters in his Audited (ABC) Circufation-2,335 (Mar. 31, 1954)

McGreevy to Face Embezzlement Trial

Vigilance Group Now in Keya Paha

50 Years Ago Sheriff Hall went to Lincoln to secure requisition papers for Berrard McGreevy. He will return McGreevy to O'Neill to stand trial on the charges of embezzlement. McGreevy was arrested last week in Phoenix, Ariz. . . It epistle, which, for lack of some- is reported that a vigilance committee has been organized in eastern Keya Paha, which, if true, will probably bring old Keya Paha to the front again as the "dark and bloody ground" of the border. . . Ernest Elkins and Miss Maggie Fauquier were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents. . . Will Young accidently shot himself in the hand when he set his gun down on returning home from duck

> 20 Years Ago James M. Stevens, 94, the last of Holt county's Civil war vet-hunting.

erans, died at his home in Page.
. . . The body of Frank McNichols was found in Elliot Bay, Seattle, Wash. The body showed marks of violence other than the lowing amounts of their 1954 bullet wound. No other clues as crops under the price support to the identity of the assailant were found. It is presumed robbery was the motive. . . Very Rev. John G. McNamara has received from His Holiness Pope Pius XI a copy of yors paper, then I get meeting to set up an organization em. Red yors paper so long, I to have other forms of roughness feel like yore wuz wun uv us. shipped into the county, as a re-My brothur says he been wunding if somtimes you want the short of feed for their livestock.

10 Years Ago

Miss Betsy Lou Markland and Lt. Francis Soukup were united in marriage at Ft. Knox, Ky. . Lyndle R. Stout, who has served seven years, resigned last week to accept the position of distributing manager for the Moorman Manufacturing company. . . Bill Serck was appointed by the board of supervisors to serve as county clerk until next election. The number of men between the ages of 18-37 to be drafted son, N.D., engineering project ap- has been increased, according to directive announced from Washington by Brig.-Gen. Guy N. Henninger.

One Year Ago Mother M. Muriel of Minot, N.D., is the new superior at St. Mary's academy, succeeding the late Mother M. Erica, who died

ard Hungerford received his

When You and I Were Young... wings at the navy flight training and their son-in-law and daugh- school at Pensacola, Fla. He is ter, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blocker, Miss Mae D. Har the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. and family, all of Columbus. wedding anniversary at an open- send's son, Gene, and family of house at the ranch home of their Omaha will not be present. son, Tommy, near Amelia. . . Mrs. Ruby Holcomb, rural school teacher in district 156 near Chambers, has been chosen as a master teacher representative for

CCC Loan Deadlines Five Weeks Away

the Holt County Rural Teachers'

Farmers who have postponed taking out a price-support loan or purchase agreement on their grain crops may well make an early visit to their county agricultural stabilization and conservation office, according to Harry E. Ressel, chairman of the ASC

Closing date for commodity credit corporation loans and purchase agreements on 1954 crops of wheat, rye, barley, oats and grain sorghums is January 31, 1955. Loans and purchase agreements on 1954 crop corn are available through May 31, 1955.

As of December 13, farmers in the county had covered the folprogram:

Darie	,		Ψ 2,00 1.12
Rye			7,764.40
Oats			10,125.60
Whea	t		7,442.19
			51,321.22
		reminds	farmers
that a	dequate	storage i	s essential to the operation of the loan pro-

Fownsends to Spend Winter Away-

PAGE - Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Townsend plan to leave this week for Norfolk where they will spend the rest of the winter at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chmeler. Their son, Alva of Columbus, will come and take them to Norfolk.

A Christmas dinner will be held at the Chmeler home and others who plan to be present are Mr. and Mrs. Alva Townsend

> REX W. WILSON, ROBT. M. LANGDON, M.D.

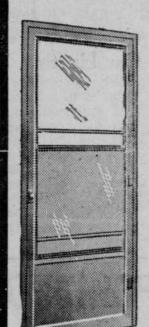

PHYSICIANS & SURGEONS 128 W. Douglas St., O'Neill Phone 138

The Unusual Gift ALUMINUM COMBINATION DOORS

HOLIDAY SPECIAL

NO PAINTING

- NO WARPING
  - CLOSE FIT
    - BEAUTIFYING

FREE

BEAUTIFUL 12" HIGH

Sterling Grille

with or without your initial installed on each door!

Regular Price $10.15

(Offer expires January 10, 1955)

Your old storm door is worth $10.00 as trade-in!

This Is Our TOP QUALITY DOOR!

Regular Cash Price 69.50

NO DOWN PAYMENT

- - NO MORTGAGE
    - NO PAYMENT UNTIL MARCH, 1955 • COMPLETELY INSTALLED

1 Door with FREE Grille _ $5.42 per mo. 2 Doors with FREE Grille . $5.60 per mo.

We also have 12 different types of Aluminum Combination WINDOWS to present for your inspection!

ORDER NOW!

CALL: 548-LR or 409-J

WESTERN HOME IMPROVEMENT CO. O'Neill, Nebr.

WRITE:

Hungerford of Bassett and he is a former O'Neill high athletic Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gilmore and in-law and sister, Mrs. and Mrs. great. . Ray Eby announced in-auguration of the O'Neill taxi service. . Mr. and Mrs. Thom-and Mrs. Tom Doover of Madison and Mrs. Tom Doover of Linas Doolittle marked their golden coln, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Town- Guest Here-ton university, Omaha, visited days.

Miss Mae D. Hammond of Washington, D.C., arrived Mon-

Miss Ann Waters of Omaha arrived Monday to visit her sisters, Mrs. William Biglin and Mrs. John O'Neill, student at Creigh- Margaret Boler, over the holi-Wednesday with his parents, Mr.

- Gift Packages of Wine
  - Gift Decanters
    - Sparkling Burgundy
      - Champagne

FREE GIFT WRAPPING

Pat's Bar

- O'Neill -

and a language of the contract of the contract

"Serving Holt County Since 1889"

Iowan had no better sense than to haul off and hit is just as important. The problem of what to do about Santa Claus All the public knows is what the lady said afis an old one and its history can shed much light terward. She went into his office to see him about upon the present debate. A study of the history of a news item. For no reason at all, she said, he lost the question shows others during the past few his temper, spoke abusively and gave her the back centuries have attempted to expose the Santa Claus myth but as far as we can tell the old gentleman of his hand. Anyway, that's her side of the story. He told his troubles to a salesman who calls on him. The salesman, known in his territory as a very tough and unsympathetic character, listened to the editor's account of the incident and then

Plourd says a Hawkeye editor he knows is in disgrace in his respective community because the went out and bought him a box of cigars. It seems the editor had worked until 2 a.m., the night before. A committee that knew for six weeks they were going to need programs for an event they were in charge of, finally got around to ordering them and they had to have them the next day. When he arrived at the office the next morning to start the day's schedule he found three things awaiting him. A linotype had broken down and the operator couldn't set any type until he repaired it. A rural group meeting that morning suddenly decided they wanted a price on a piece of printing so they could discuss it at their meeting. A salesman was waiting to take his order for some needed supplies. Before he could dispose of these three emergencies his wife phoned that a pipe was leaking in the basement at home, and a committee arrived to see about wangling some free publicity for a coming fund drive. A good advertising customer came in with an ad lay-out and wanted him to hunt up some illustrations to go with it. A printer was fidgeting while he waited to get an okay on a job-printing proof. It was then that a

She demanded to know why an item about her sister's family being Sunday dinner guests at her home had been omitted. The editor said it undoubtedly was an oversight, but she yelled that it wasn't either and was done on purpose and she militant female stomped in with a hostile look in wasn't going to stand for it. He didn't say another word. He just bopped

You Can Tell Him! (Guest editorial from The Nebraska Signal,

the McCarthy censure motion didn't have to wait | are paid-in-advance. long to find out. The eastern clergyman who an-

Editor Strikes Lady! Bill Plourd, the salty stribe of the Nance | congregation the truth about Santa Claus supplied

County Journal at Fullerton, tells this story about | the answer. Perhaps the debate on what to do about Santa may not be as long, at this time, and it probably won't be as bitter as the McCarthy question, but to parents with youngsters of Santa Claus age it is in better standing today than at any time since he was invented. Since the question cannot be affected by legislation or public polls there probably is little point in taking up the arguments on both sides of the question. Besides, logic has nothing to do with it. We suspect many children discover the facts about Santa long before they take the final step to adulthood by admitting they don't believe in him anymore, indicating children aren't likely to become cynical when they find they have been betrayed, as some psychologists have suggested. Also, we suspect many adults enjoy keeping Fri.-Sat. up the myth just as much as the children enjoy it and that between such adults and their offspring it's going to take more than one clergyman and a few serious minded psychologists to set the world

"right" on this important matter. In the meantime, we'll join the majority by making preparations to assist Santa Claus when he visits our community between now and Christmas day. We hope we do nothing that will lead an innocent child to question the authenticity of every Santa Claus he sees between now and then. We'll let someone else enjoy the thrills of telling him "there ain't no Santa Claus."

CARROLL W. STEWART, Editor and Publisher Editorial & Business Offices: 122 South Fourth St. Address correspondence: Box 330, O'Neill, Nebr.

tion, National Editorial Association and the Audit