

Leslie C. Sweet Takes Bride

STUART—The Methodist church in Valentine was the scene of a pretty wedding on Sunday afternoon, June 21, at 2:30 o'clock when Miss Marilyn Mullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mullen of Valentine, became the bride of Leslie C. Sweet, son of Mrs. Elsie Sweet of Stuart.

The altar was decorated with baskets of gladioli and the pews were decorated with daisies. Reverend Boyle officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Frances Darlington of Chadron sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Joan Lenington, also of Chadron.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown fashioned of accordion pleated tulle with a chantilly lace jacket. Her fingertip veil of nylon net and chantilly lace was attached to a tiara of lace embroidered with seed pearls.

Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid. The maid-of-honor was Miss Wilma Purtle of Torrington, Wyo., a friend of the bride. Her gown of yellow nylon net was topped with a shirtwaist chantilly lace jacket. She wore a matching headband and carried a colonial bouquet.

Serving their sister as bridesmaids, the Misses Patricia and Laurel Mullen wore identically styled formals of lavender and aqua with chantilly lace boleros accenting the full net and satin skirts. They wore matching headbands and carried bouquets of carnations.

Edwin Sweet served his brother as bestman. Willis Berry, cousin of the bridegroom, and Bob Andrews, a friend of the bridegroom, ushered. The men wore boutonnières of white carnations. The bride's mother chose a dress of black and white lace with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother a dress of navy blue. Each wore red carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Almira Jeffers was in charge of the guest-book.

Mrs. Sweet received her education in the Valentine schools and Chadron Teachers college.

Mr. Sweet is a graduate of Stuart high school, class of 1949, and is in the coast guard, stationed at Juneau, Alaska.

After a wedding trip in the Black Hills, S.D., the couple will reside at Juneau.

Those attending the wedding from Stuart were: Mrs. Elsie Sweet and daughters, Evelyn and Alice, Warren Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Berry and Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sweet and family, Mary Ann Allyn and Lois Finch.

Other Stuart News
Misses Barbara Moses, Faye Moses, The Weichman and Lucille Mitchell, all students at Wayne State normal, spent the weekend with home folks.

Rudolf Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Mitchell and daughters went to Omaha Saturday to attend the funeral rites for D. A. Boldra. Mr. Boldra was a son-in-law of Rudolf Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Goodwin of Amarillo, Tex., came Saturday to visit the Charles Moses family. Mrs. Goodwin is the former Helen Moses.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nachtmann and Sonny went to Verdel Sunday evening to visit with Adolf Elis.

Miss Ruth Nachtmann of Lincoln visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Nachtmann.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Scott and family of Yankton, S.D., Mr.

and Mrs. Claude Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Porter and family of Bassett were picnic dinner guests at the Berlin Mitchell home Sunday. The group attended open-house in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fullerton's golden wedding in Atkinson that afternoon.

Jury Finds for Weller, Putnam

The federal court jury in session in Norfolk found for the defendants Wednesday afternoon in the cattle case brought against the Atkinson Livestock Market and L. D. Putnam, O'Neill rancher. The verdict was announced about 4 p.m., after the jury had deliberated about four hours.

Ed Fiala, who runs a one thousand acre ranch 12 miles northwest of Fulton, S.D., brought suit against E. C. Weller, Joe Kokes and Putnam because he claimed 55 head of cows he bought there in 1951 had Bang's disease.

The jury case opened Monday and Judge John W. Delehant delivered the case to the jury Wednesday noon.

Earlier, the defense attorneys, Julius D. Cronin of O'Neill and Frederick M. Deusch of Norfolk, had asked for a directed verdict after maintaining that Fiala's attorney, Francis M. Casey of Plattsmouth, had failed to make a case. Judge Delehant declined to give a directed verdict Tuesday.

Larry Tibbetts Enters Paratroops
Mrs. Art Tibbetts and Edith Castleman drove to Omaha Sunday morning, taking Larry Tibbetts, 17, there for his physical examination for the army. Larry has enlisted in the paratroopers and called his parents Tuesday afternoon saying he had passed his physical and was to leave Omaha Wednesday afternoon for Camp Crowder, Mo., where he will be outfitted. From there, Larry goes to Ft. Riley, Kans., for 16 weeks of basic training and then on to Ft. Benning, Ga., for five weeks of jump school training.

Larry is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Tibbetts.

Mrs. Tibbetts and Edith Castleman visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Tibbetts and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tibbetts and family while in Omaha. They returned Sunday night bringing Mickey Tomlinson with them from Fremont, where he had been visiting.

Ewing Scouts Study Swimming
EWING—Boy Scout troop 181 met at the Scout headquarters last Thursday evening for a regular session, which was called to order by H. R. Harris, scoutmaster. The Apache patrol conducted the business meeting. Paul Gunter was elected troop scribe for the summer months while Allen Peterson is working.

Gail Boies, committeeman, gave a talk on first class requirements. Instruction in swimming and signaling will begin July 1. He urged all Scouts to study other first class requirements to be ready for the tests in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Becker entertained Sunday at a picnic in Ford's park. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Roskopf and children, Johnnie and Elizabeth of St. Louis, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stevens and daughters, Kathy and Susie, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stevens and Christie all of Hartington. Mrs. Roskopf is a niece of the Becker's.

Ronnie Timm is spending this week visiting his cousins, Bobby and Donnie Williamson of Stuart.

The Calkins survivors: Donald, a son, who is now in the navy; Harold, oldest son, who is employed by a wholesale tobacco firm here; Mrs. Calkins and the daughter, Mrs. Walter Lyons, now living in New Mexico. County Sheriff Leo Tomjack and Patrolman Robert Gude took the news of Joseph Emmett McLimans' confession to Mrs. Calkins within a half-hour after the confession was gotten.—The Frontier Photo.

Investigators had theorized correctly the location of Chief Calkins' cruiser car and the "late model Kaiser" that the chief was inspecting when the crime was reenacted the following day. Slaying took place a few hundred feet from the heart of city in the early morning hours on March 7, 1952.—The Frontier Photo.

Killer of Calkins an Adopted Boy

His wife visited him Wednesday afternoon and evening in the cell.

"We did lots of bargaining to get the confession," Sheriff Leo Tomjack said.

Turning Point Tuesday Night
The turning point in the investigation, County Attorney William Griffin says, came late Tuesday night.

Mrs. Mary Fleming of O'Neill and Richard Spittler of Ewing, two of the witnesses who last saw Chief Calkins alive while he was investigating the trunk of a "late model blue or green Kaiser" on Everett street.

Griffin said McLimans thought Fleming and Spittler recognized him, and from that point on "we realized we were getting somewhere."

"We were just about played out," Griffin commented, "we were right at the end of our rope, but we played the hunches and the turning point was there."

Sheriff Tomjack says: "He was a lone operator—always alone. Sitting on a dark side street and unlawfully drinking beer in public—alone—points that out. His robberies were done single-handed as nearly as we can determine. He has a cold, stone face but was apparently relieved after he told us the story."

Second degree murder charges have been filed because, Griffin says, it would be almost impossible to charge him with first degree premeditated murder.

"We didn't have much to go on," Tomjack declared, "but we grasped at straws before and this had the earmarks for quite awhile of being our best lead."

Jewell, Norfolk attorney, had come to O'Neill to defend McLimans on the larceny charge, but the picture changed rapidly after he reached O'Neill.

Underneath McLimans' outward appearance there is evidence he does not show his age. But the mental strain has been intense.

Lt. Harry Brit of the safety patrol said he knew McLimans. The investigators' file is thick with data on McLimans and a series of robberies in which he has been questioned, and, perhaps, still others on which he will be questioned.

'Voice' Goes on Air with Special Broadcast
The "Voice of the Frontier" ran true to form with its special events coverage. At 6:15 p.m., radio station WJAG (Norfolk, 780 k.c.) interrupted its regularly scheduled program to bring a special 18-minute report on the confession from the O'Neill studios.

George Hammond, "Voice" announcer, interviewed Sheriff Tomjack, Capt. H. D. Smith, who is chief investigator for the Nebraska safety patrol, and Lt. Harry Brit of Norfolk, who is in charge of the Norfolk patrol area. Also heard on the program was Carroll ("Cal") Stewart, The Frontier editor who had covered the courthouse story, shot pictures and had an interview with the slayer's foster mother.

Dr. Robert Wallace went to Sioux City and Omaha last week. While in Omaha he attended the Merriman-Jesse wedding.

Wind Test Plans Told in California

The following story was carried under a Santa Barbara, Calif., dateline:
"A large scale investigation of turbulence in the lower atmosphere will be undertaken by the air force and other researchers in the plains area near O'Neill, Nebr., this summer, a research scientist reported Friday."

"A quarter of a square mile of level terrain near the little town will be blanketed with instruments while helicopters and balloons aloft will release great clouds of chemical smoke whose movements will be minutely recorded to tell the story of little air currents."

"E. L. Eaton, geophysicist of the air force Cambridge research center, Cambridge, Mass., told reporters about the project at a meeting here of the American Meteorological society."

More than a dozen university and government agencies will take part. The recording will be done during August and September, Eaton said. "Turbulence in the air nearest the earth is of importance in the operation of guided missiles, chemical warfare, weather forecasting and aviation."

"Movements in the air up to 5,000 feet will be observed and recorded. One phase of the project will be to examine minutely the behavior of air 50 to 100 feet above the ground."

Dr. Guenter Looser of the air force research center at Cambridge, Mass., and Mr. Chamberlain of Wright Field, Dayton, O., research center were in O'Neill Tuesday and Wednesday making further arrangements.

Be a Lazy Susan Hostess

Turn a sandwich snack into party fare by serving triple deakers of ham and cheese from a revolving lazy susan tray in the company of cool, sparkling beer.

No one wants to spend hours in the kitchen during the warm-weather months. Even for guests, you don't have to if you entertain casually and informally.

For a luncheon or light supper snack that can be served anywhere it's convenient—be it indoors or out, from card table or coffee table—serve these Lazy Susan Sandwiches. The eye-catching garnish resembling brown-eyed susans is made easily from carrot strips and whole black olives.

Lazy Susan Sandwiches (Makes 4 servings)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon prepared horseradish

8 slices whole wheat bread
4 slices ham or tongue
4 slices Swiss or American cheese
4 small carrots, scraped
4 ripe olives

Blend together butter (or margarine) and horseradish. Remove crusts from bread and spread each slice on one side with butter mixture. Form triple-decker sandwiches using two slices whole wheat bread, one slice of white bread and a slice of both ham and cheese for each sandwich. For top garnish, cut carrots lengthwise in quarters and arrange petal-fashion on top of each sandwich with a ripe olive in the center of each. Serve with mayonnaise and mustard.
