N I VE DO LARGER PARISH

(Presbyterian churches of Niobrara, Verdell and Dorsey)
With an impressive candlelight service the youth caravan team installed the officers of the newly-formed Westminster fellowship Friday night at Verdell. The newly-elected officers lighted their candle which represented the light of Christ, and then formed a lighted cross.

The officers of the senior high and older youth group are: Virginia Zuek, moderator; Barbara Hanzlik, vice-moderator; and Jo Ellen Pied, stated clerk and treasurer.

The officers of the junior high group are: Wilma Hanzlik, moderator; Velma Lannan, vice-moderator; and Joyce McGill, stated clerk and treasurer. The next meeting of the Westminster fellowship will be Tuesday, July 21, 8 p.m., at the church. Sponsors of the group are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hanzlik and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peters.

A communion table covered with a white linen cloth emblazoned in blue with the words "In Remembrance of Me" was the work project of the caravanners and the youth at Verdell. The Niobrara youth also helped the Verdell youth to make a worship center for the kindergarten and primary departments and coverments in those departments with linoleum.

The caravan team helped the Niobrara youth to make preliminary plans for an organization. Newly-elected officers are: Elaine Poner, moderator; Judy Marshall, vice-moderator; Marcia Miller, stated clerk; and Doris Crosley, treasurer.

Friday, July 17, 8 p.m., the caravan team and the youth of Dorsey will present a special program concerning the work they have done the past week at the afternoon and evening sessions of the Westminster fellowship.

Michi Tanaka, the member of the team from Japan, gave a message to the women of Niobrara and Verdell from the Christians of Japan as she spoke last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Marshall, jr., in Niobrara and in the evening at the ladies' aid building in Verdell.

Sunday the caravan team had charge of the morning service. They took as their theme the meaning of the Westminster fellowship pledge. At the noon hour they enjoyed a picnic luncheon in the Niobrara youth. In the evening at a picnic supper with a sing to follow, they met the people of Dorsey and their new host and hostess for the week. The homes in which they stayed during their Verdell visit were: The Leonard Black home at Willard Davis home, the Emil Hanzlik home, the Vendelin Hanzlik home and the Earl Sexton home.

The Sunday-school of the Niobrara church helped Mrs. Maggie Kesselring celebrate her 94th birthday anniversary Sunday by gathering by her window at the rest home and singing "Happy Birthday."

Garden Clubbers on All-Day Outing

CHAMBERS—Tuesday, July 7, 11 members of Beautiful Valley Garden club filled picnic baskets, climbed into cars and headed for Long Pine to spend the day.

Making the trip were Mrs. C. V. Robertson, Mrs. Charles Spann, Mrs. H. C. Walter, Mrs. H. W. Hubbard, Mrs. James Platt, Mrs. Ray Hoffman, Mrs. Charles Spath, Mrs. T. E. Newhouse and Mrs. George Thomson.

Arriving about 11 a.m. they drove first to Hidden Paradise for a quick look before stopping for lunch. They then proceeded to Long Pine tourist park on the banks of the lake, where numerous picnic tables, plenty of shade and parking space makes and ideal picnic location.

After lunch a short business session was held without roll call or lesson. Later some of the more ambitious members walked around the lake, over the bridge by the dam, and climbed the tree-covered bluff on the other side. They found and filled baskets and aprons with exceptionally perfect pine cones, which lay scattered on the ground, also noticed a number of wild plants and flowers which are not found in the Chambers region. Further up the bluff a small spring was observed trickling down the hillside. Some candid camera shots were taken of the group as they crossed the footbridge back to the tables.

After partaking of cold drinks, it was decided to return to Hidden Paradise to explore a bit. Here again some of the members climbed about the hills and found more "treasures" to pack home. The rustic footbridge, was bright with waterlilies, moss, watercress and other plants. Benches along the stream made a pleasant place to rest.

About 4 o'clock the group packed up to return, stopping in town to select a souvenir of the trip for Mrs. Myrtle Bell, a member who was unable to make the journey because of ill health.

Arriving at the C. V. Robertson home on the way back, someone suggested that as it was superfluous and plenty of food left in the baskets, a picnic supper would climax the day. Mrs. Robertson brought out tables and chairs and jug of fruit drinks.

Next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Spath, August 4th, at 2 p.m. Roll call response will be "Birds that nest near my home."
