Burwell Girl, 17, Wins Chicago Trip

BURWELL—Miss Jayne Wunderlich, 17, has earned an all-expense trip to the annual 4-H club congress to be held in Chicago, Ill. Her trip is sponsored by General Motors for noteworthy results in statewide 4-H farm and home safety competition.

She helped make her community more safety conscious by means of surveys, demonstrations and other aids. Jayne became interested in farm and home safety through watching a farm's barn go up in flames one night. As a result, she made a careful check of fire and safety hazards on the farm of her father, L. J. Wunderlich, and took corrective action.

She selected "Safety" as the topic for a public speaking contest and placed posters in store windows. She also distributed leaflets during farm safety week.

Applicants Sought for Annapolis

Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Nebr.) announced this week that competitive examinations for two appointments to the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Md., will be held January 11 for the class starting in 1954.

The Fourth district republican said he will follow the same policy as he has in the past with those receiving the highest grades winning the appointment.

"I hope anyone from the Fourth district who is interested in the appointment will take the examination," he said.

In order for a person to qualify to take the examination, he must have reached his 17th birthday and not have had his 22d birthday on July 1, of the year of proposed admission. He must be in good health, have no deformi-
