Good to choice calves made up the bulk of the sale, selling from $20.00 to $22.00, while fancy offerings were quotable from $23.00 to $24.00 cwt. Some just good steer calves sold from $18.00 to $20.00. Heifer calves were in good demand, bringing $17.20 to $18.40 which was the day's top on some 385 pounders. Cheaper kinds sold from $15.00 to $16.50.

There weren't any yearling steers with the quality to compare with last week's newly-established highs, however, all kinds sold well, mosty from $18.00 to $20.50. The more common stockers were selling from $16.00 to $18.00 cwt. We had two nice strings of yearling heifers, pretty good for quality, weighing just under 600 pounds, selling up to 16.70 cwt.
