Letters to the Editor
 Dec. 11, 1960

Sirs:
 After living thru the battle of Little Rock and now listening to what is happening in New Orleans, the struggle over O'Neill's bond issue sounds mild.

Usually, the so called Progressives consist to a large extent of utility employees and chain store managers. Many of them will not stay long enough to pay out the bonds. Of course, quite a few are people who will pay.

Some of the Conservatives are downright stingy, but most of 'em just want to pay as they go. Our educators do run too much toward athletics, why train 11 boys as athletes, while 764 other pupils do no heavier training than putting records on hi-fi?

Parents are largely to blame, as few students do home work. The schools teach social activities but not how to make a living.

Before a construction contract is let explore every means of lowering the cost. First, is the land costing too much? Next, the type of construction. I note one Oklahoma school was built at half the Federal estimate, because they used local material and local labor. On most contracts, the high wages and profits go to outsiders.

On the other school house, the board never consulted any local dealer. As a consequence, the gas hot plates in the domestic science room were unsafe and of a type discarded 25 years before.

And they paid the contractor without finding out that the gas line had never been run thru the 16 inch outside concrete wall.

However, the person who wrote "There Is No Santa Claus" is correct. When you get Federal money you pay thru the nose.

The letter from the seventh grader who just might have to get up at 6:30 a.m. almost broke my poor heart. Do all these kids expect to grow up as bankers and golf their lives away? Some of our neighbors kids get on a cold bus at 6:30 and ride 50 miles. "Business Man" talks about driving away farmers. While I realize Holt County farmers are the toughest and meanest lot on earth, they hardly ever bite you if you pay 'em a reasonable price for their produce and don't over charge 'em on everything you sell.

Now, why don't your brave correspondents sign their names? Even down here, where there's a reward for Republicans, I sign mine. So far, I haven't even been half-shot.

If I ever wear a disguise in O'Neill, it will be to avoid my creditors.

Servicemen's Notes

INMAN—Jimmie D. Sawyer, machinist's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sawyer of Inman, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The Saratoga is the flagship of Rear Admiral David L. McDonald, Commander, Carrier Division Six.

O'NEILL—James P. Renze, apprentice petty officer second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Renze of O'Neill graduated Nov. 18 from nine weeks of Recruit Training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego Calif.

Apprentice petty officers are chosen from the ranks of the seaman recruits to assist Company Commanders. The selection is based on individual aptitude and leadership qualities.

SPENCER—Dennis R. Angel, electronics technician second class, USN, of Spencer was serving aboard the nuclear powered fleet ballistic missile submarine USS Ethan Allen when it was launched at Groton, Conn. Nov. 22.

The Ethan Allen, equipped with the Polaris missile, is the largest submarine in the world.

O'NEILL—Army Recruit Darold R. Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Strong of O'Neill recently qualified as an expert in firing the M-1 rifle on the trainfire range at Ft. Riley, Kan.

The trainfire range is designed to simulate combat conditions and features pop-up targets at distance unknown to the firer.

Twenty-year old Strong, assigned to the 4th Artillery's Battery A, attended O'Neill high school and was employed by Stillman Rubber Company of Los Angeles, Calif., before entering army service.

O'NEILL—Reed R. Tomjack, boatswain's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo S. Tomjack of O'Neill is serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS St. Paul.

The cruiser visited Taiwan, Vietnam, Manila and Philippines before returning to her homeport, Yokosuka, Japan on Nov. 18 following a six-week cruise to Far Eastern ports.

EMMET—Alfred "Doc" Schaaf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Schaaf of Emmet graduated from recruit training November 18 at the Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp", included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

"Doc" is presently at home visiting friends and relatives over the holidays.
