State Board of Education Hopes For Teacher's Scholarship Fund

LINCOLN—There is a small group of young people who get the run-around each session of the Nebraska Legislature. But they don't mind since that is their job. They are the pages, an indispensable group. Says one veteran lawmaker, Sen. Hal Eridenbaugh of Dakota City, "I'd be lost without them. There are so many errands they can do and it saves me a lot of time and steps."

One of the principal duties of the pages is to be on hand during committee meetings to take care of errands for the senators and to locate senators in other committees whose bills come before their committee.

When the lawmakers are in session, the pages are on hand to run errands for the senators who summon them by pressing a button which lights up on the page board. Legislative Clerk Hugo Srb says at one time the pages used to be all boys. "Then during the war we switched to all girls. Now we're about 50-50," he said. There currently are seven on the page squad. "You have to have one for every standing committee which meets during the day," Srb explained.

"It's a wonderful opportunity for those interested in government who want to watch the legislative branch in operation," Srb added. "It may be the beginning of a greater interest to follow in government activities."

"We've had pages who later ran for the Legislature," Srb recalled. "One later became attorney general." That was Walter Johnson who served in the Legislature in 1925, '31, '33 and 1937. He was attorney general from 1939-49.

The pages of the 72nd session are Marion Wolfe of Eagle, Stan Wilson of Lincoln, Doris Matejousky of Lincoln, Joan L. Graf of Republican City, Phyllis Daniels of Lincoln, Michael Lough of Albion and William Reed of Lincoln.

Public Power
It is expected that the state's public power problems may be subject of considerable discussion by the Legislature's public works committee. The committee, headed by Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, met informally and agreed to invite public power officials before the committee to recommend solutions.

There still is sentiment in the Legislature for an interim study of the problem before the lawmakers attempt to get into the matter legally. Ruhnke says he is a supporter of public power and that he feels the system is good. But, he added, if there are weaknesses in it, they should be corrected.

Ruhnke says the power people have been attempting to solve their problem ever since he has been in the Legislature. Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora says the progress, if any, has been "real, real small."

Teacher Scholarships
The State Board of Education would like to see legislation passed to set up scholarships for 215 prospective teachers. Scholarships, the board feels, would help finance schooling for five prospective teachers from each legislative district who would receive $400 per school year up to four years.

The prospective teachers would not have to pay back the money as long as they remained in Nebraska and taught school for each year of benefits.

If the teachers failed to teach in Nebraska a given number of years, they would be required to pay back the amount at $400 per year with five per cent interest. Cost of the proposal has been estimated at $86,000 for the first year, $172,000 for the second, $258,000 for the third and $344,000 for each year thereafter.

The board also has a new chairman, Hamilton Mitten of Fremont, who replaces Frank Landis of Lincoln. W. Ray Hill of Seward is vice-chairman, replacing Mitten.

HELPING YOUR VOLUNTEER FIREMEN - A NEW AK-SAR-BEN ACTIVITY

Now, Ak-Sar-Ben has established another important program to help in protecting the public safety. Ak-Sar-Ben is now contributing funds to help make possible the annual school conducted for the training of Nebraska's volunteer fire departments. Ak-Sar-Ben is also making annual cash awards to the volunteer fire departments and individual volunteer firemen who are making outstanding contributions to their respective communities.

For many years, Ak-Sar-Ben has made important contributions to public health and safety in the state. Ak-Sar-Ben is always among the first to respond when disaster strikes. Important life-saving, fire-fighting and hospital equipment is now being used every day in many Nebraska communities because Ak-Sar-Ben helped make it possible.

For years to come, many Nebraskans may well owe their lives to the spirit of service exhibited by Ak-Sar-Ben.

Yesterday... today... tomorrow — Nebraska is a better place because of the Ak-Sar-Ben programs made possible solely by the revenues from thoroughbred racing.
