But being a perennial optimist, I have scaled the time down to 25-50 years. I agree with Osborn, however, that it will require the same kind of hard work our forefathers put in when they built this country to win the peace against a country which is determined the free world must disappear.

As stated before, my own ideas on winning the peace are only "Gropings," and I make no claim of originality or copyright. They are put forward after talking with a great many people, including Sumner Welles and Sen. Brien McMahon, who has done more solid At the March 14 session of thinking about the Russian

The World Forgets-

But it would be extremely healthy if we could force Russia into calling a conference. We should remind the world that we have called conference after conference. Time after time we have gone to Moscow, while Russia has taken almost no initiative for peace. But the world has forgotten this. We need to remind the people of this fact -over and over again. We have been called warmongers so often that the world is beginning to believe it. And we have been either lazy or bumbling or both in showing that just the oppo-site is true.

3. Hold the next session of the United Nations assembly in Moscow. This is Sen. Brien McMahon's idea, and an excellent one. Most of the Russian people have a distorted notion that the U. N. is not a free and democratic assemblage, that Soviet delegates get no breaks, that the cards are stacked in favor of imperilism.

If the United Nations went to Moscow, especially for a debate on controlling atomic energy, the Russian people would get some conception of the U. N.'s truly demoncratic form, where any nation can speak its piece
