

Claude Cole and Gerry Fredrickson Preside Over Junior-Senior Banquet

By BARBARA BENNETT

Hi kids!
Have you been down to the duckpin alley yet? Boy, is it fun. My first game made me a little stiff but it was worth it because I won by one point.

The OHS junior-senior banquet was held Wednesday, May 3. The public school was beautifully decorated in a Dutch theme. Each side of the gym were dikes with tulips growing from them. In fact almost every place you looked there were tulips daintily growing. In the back of the gym was a life sized windmill with the arms going around. On the stage was a painting of a huge ship the "Flying Dutchman." Sixteen sophomores served and gave the program, and they were dressed in Dutch costumes.

One part of the program was a Holland Polka. It was a scream. About five couples did a polka and was it funny!

Some of the couples at the banquet were, Jaunita Anspach and Tom Sullivan; Barbara Hancock and Don Riley; Gerry Fredrickson and Tiny Layh; Donna Crabb and Ted Lindberg; Lois Harder and Claude Cole; Phyllis Sager and Don Waggon.

The King and Queen were Claude Cole and Gerry Fredrickson. Mr. Ira George crowned them "King Cole" and "Queen Geraldine."

The junior members of the glee club at SMA are going to St. Francis Mission in South Dakota. SMA had a dance last Thursday night given by the freshmen. They played games, like musical chairs, which Gene Stach and Patty White won. Several prizes were given to the winners.

Last Thursday the seniors of OHS had their sneak day. They went to Long Pine. It was a bad day (weather wise) but they had fun anyway.

That's all for now. See you around.
