

Walnofer-Thramer Nuptials Read

EWING — St. Peter's Catholic church at Ewing was the scene of a pretty wedding at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 7, when Miss Joan Walnofer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Walnofer, of Orchard, became the bride of Mark Thramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thramer, of Clearwater.

The nuptial mass and double-ring ceremony were conducted by Rev. P. F. Burke. Bridal wreath, lilacs and lighted tapers decorated the altar. Ushers were Cletus Thramer and Jim Walnofer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with long sleeves tapering to points at the wrist. Rippling chantilly lace formed a Bertha ruffle which joined a high sheer yoke. Chantilly lace plunged down the front and back of the skirt and swept around the train. Her fingertip veil was edged in lace with crystal beaded tiara. She wore a triple strand of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and red carnations and a blue rosary. She carried out the tradition of wearing something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue—the blue being a garter.

Mrs. Robert Walnofer, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor and wore a pink formal or marquisette over taffeta. In her hair she wore a half halo ruff of pink net as did the flower girls. She carried a white and blue bouquet of carnations. Angela Hupp, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of pink organdy with off the shoulder ruffle and carried a pink ribbon basket which held a white bridal wreath, yellow roses and iris.

Joe Tagel, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer and carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow with lace edging. Robert Walnofer, brother of the bride, was bestman. Both men wore gray suits with a white carnation boutonniere.

Mothers of the bridal pair wore aqua print rayon dresses and white carnation corsages.

After the ceremony 50 guests from Norfolk, Atkinson, Stuart, Inman, Ewing, Clearwater and Orchard were served a 3-course dinner at the bride's home. The bride's table was centered with a 3-tier cake, decorated in pink and white and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. White tapers in silver holders were at each side. The other table was centered with a 2-tier bridegroom's cake which was served later in the day.

The dinner was prepared by Mrs. Peter Walnofer, Mrs. L. H. Farewell, Mrs. John Steskal and Mrs. Richard Peters. Waitresses were Nadine Steskal and Lucy Ann Thramer.

Mrs. Frances Shaw was in charge of the guest book.

The bride graduated from Ewing high school with the class of 1949. She was employed at the state hospital in Norfolk prior to her marriage. The bridegroom had assisted his father in farming.

Mrs. Thramer wore an aqua print bemberg dress for her wedding trip west. On returning Mr. and Mrs. Thramer will make their home on a farm southwest of Ewing.

Fredrickson-Layh Vows Exchanged

A double-ring nuptial ceremony was performed in First Presbyterian church at O'Neill by Rev. Ralph Gerber on Friday, June 2, at 2 p.m., when Miss Geraldine Faye Fredrickson, daughter of James Fredrickson, of Bassett, became the bride of Clarence Clayton Layh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Layh, of O'Neill.

Mrs. Gerber was organist and played "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony.

The bride wore a gray suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bridegroom was attired in a blue-gray suit and wore a white carnation boutonniere.

Both are graduates of the class of 1950 at the O'Neill public school.

Only the immediate members of the families were present at the ceremony, after which a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents for those present at the wedding.

Shortly afterward the couple left for a short honeymoon in the Black Hills, S. D.

WHEN HUMAN LIVES BECOME STATISTICS

70 killed!—More than 8,000 injured! You didn't read of this disaster in your local paper. It wasn't there. These killed and injured were working men and women all across the nation who were accident victims on their jobs yesterday. Today they are statistics!

The toll goes on—every hour, every day and at year's end some 16,000 workers have been killed and more than 2,000,000 injured. Time lost by disabling injuries would equal the working time of a million men for a whole year. For the dead there is no time.

About 3 out of every 4 occupational accident victims are workers in smaller plants, firms and businesses. In fact, in every job there is some hazard. Slipping on a floor, tripping on a stair or falling from a truck can incapacitate you as surely as some situation which would seem more dangerous. Know your job—know the hazards connected with it—and be prepared to avoid them.

Think before you act—before you expose yourself to danger and accident. Think safely. It's better to be a worker than a statistic!
