

NELLIE IVERSON DIES IN DAKOTA

STUART—Nellie Iverson was the fourth child of Amelia and Elbert Baker. She was born at Janesville, Wisc., on December 3, 1872, and died July 6, 1950, at Denby S. D.

When about 2-years-old, she moved to Sergeant Bluffs, Ia., with her parents, where she grew to womanhood. She taught 3 years in the rural schools and on March 20, 1895, she was united in marriage to Albert B. Iverson.

For many years she made her home there, later moving to Stuart, where she lived the remainder of her life.

To this union 6 children were born, a daughter preceding her in death, Mrs. Nellie Stewart, of Newport.

Survivors include: Husband—Albert Iverson; sons—Elbert, of Bassett, and Forrest, of Stuart; daughters—Mrs. Marvin (Beatrice) Nelson, of Denby, S. D., Mrs. Irma Harrington, of Hermiston, Ore., and Mrs. Guy (Edith) Nelson, of Omaha; 19 grandchildren, and 2 great-granddaughters.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Orin Graff at the Federated church Sunday afternoon, July 9, at 2 o'clock.

Interment was made Monday in the Graceland cemetery at Sioux City.

Tavern Men Enjoy Vacations, Too

Your tavern man needs relaxation as much as any other business man. He'll probably take a vacation like many of his customers. And it is but natural that, while in other localities, he will visit other tavern keepers to learn better methods which can improve his operation.

The Brewing Industry Helps Him, Too

The Nebraska Division, U. S. Brewers Foundation, aids further by maintaining a trained man who observes tavern operations throughout the state and suggests better practices where such suggestions are needed.

The goal is a higher level of tavern operation in an effort to better serve the public.
