

Holt Teachers Try Deep-Sea Fishing

Vaulda Welke Writes Impressions of Eastern Tour
By VAULDA WELKE
Of Ewing

On Tuesday, August 29, 37 tired, happy and "well educated" teachers returned to good old Nebraska.

Holt countyans on the extensive Eastern tour were Miss Elja McCullough, of O'Neill, Holt county superintendent of schools, Thelma Young, Barbara Trowbridge, Leona Beckwith, Alice Sammons, Marcella Tomjack, Eileen Krysl, Lucille Mitchell, Anna Carson, Genevieve Vandernick and yours truly.

Miss McCullough was business manager and Miss Lulu Way, of Wayne State Teachers college was instructor. We went by chartered Greyhound bus.

We left O'Neill August 6. While in Chicago, Ill., we were on the radio program, "Welcome Travelers." Bob Ogan, of Creston, talked on the program. They went to the screening of "Louisa." We visited Greenfield Village near Detroit, Mich. This was sponsored by Henry Ford and so many things concerning him were in this village. There were also many of Thos. Edison's inventions. Before arriving in Detroit, we went through the Kalamazoo vegetable parchment plant.

In Canada, we stayed in Montreal and Quebec. Tours of the cities showed us much early American history as did also the tour of Boston, Mass.

At Portland, Me., 14 of us decided to be deep-sea fishermen. We land - loving Nebraskans didn't exactly appreciate the deep sea. Our catch was mainly dogfish which were not good for food.

We saw Niagara Falls from both the American and Canadian side.

The tour of the Thousand Islands from Gananoque, Ontario, to Clayton, N. Y., was very interesting. The St. Lawrence was so calm and peaceful. The smallest international bridge in the world connects 2 of the islands. The bridge is about 3 feet long. The homes on the islands are valued from about $14,000 and up.

In New York City, we went to Radio City Music Hall to see the Rockettes, the world's greatest precision dancers. Some of the group took in most of New York's night life on about a 5-cent tip.

A $48 cover charge does not quite match a school teacher's pocket book. Half of the group also went to Coney Island. During our tour of the city, we took a boat ride to a Statue of Liberty. The lady with her torch was a very impressive sight.

At Lake Success, N. Y., we visited the United Nations. Seven of the group got into the security council. The rest of us watched Malik's speech on television. English, French, Russian, Chinese and Spanish are used at the United Nations so one could listen to the language of his choice.

At Philadelphia, Pa., we visited Independence Hall and saw the Liberty Bell. We walked through the grounds of the naval academy in Annapolis, Md.

About a week before we were there an order was issued forbidding outsiders on the pier.

In Washington, D. C., we visited Sen. Tom Connelly, of Texas, and Sen. Kenneth Wherry, of Nebraska, Representatives A. L. Miller and Karl Stefan, of Nebraska. We listened to the House while in session.

We became privileged characters and got to ride a little car from one part of the capitol to another. Senators can ride in the car but representatives have to walk.

We were in the supreme court building, Smithsonian Institute, Library of Congress and visited Washington's monument and saw the Lincoln memorial.

We were at Arlington national cemetery in time to see the changing of the guards at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. An unknown veteran of World War II is to be selected from 6 bodies in Philadelphia. This veteran is to be laid in a channel on the west side of the tomb.

The inscription will be changed to "Here rests members of the armed forces of World War I and II, known only to God." The dedication is to be next memorial day.

We visited Mt. Vernon, Washington's home near Alexandria, Va. Much of the place is just as Washington left it. Washington's tomb is a short distance from the house, overlooking the beautiful Potomac.

Some of the group attended a baseball game in Boston and others saw the Washington Senators defeated in a night double-header by the Cleveland Indians. Miss Washington, D. C., of 1950, was presented that night.

We visited Gettysburg national cemetery and saw the place where Lincoln gave his Gettysburg address. In Suringfield, Ill., we visited Lincoln's tomb and home.

Our last night was spent in Des Moines, Ia. Even though we had seen many interesting and beautiful and wonderful places and things, we were glad to get back to Nebraska.

As we get 3 hours college credit, we had to do more than just take in all the sights and sounds of more than 4,000 miles travel, but the trip was worth all the work.

Chisholm Trail Rider To Be Heard

From Valentine in the famed Sandhills country, comes a story that recalls the day when longhorn cattle were driven from Texas to Ft. Dodge, Kans. The story pays tribute to Sam Hudson who developed his own 10,000 acre ranch by hard work.

As a rough and ready frontier cowhand, he rode the old Chisholm trail and broke wild horses. Another oldtimer, Charles Reece, helps tell the story on Everett Mitchell's Great Corn story. It will be broadcast over WJAG, Norfolk, Sunday, September 10, at 1 p. m.

Lloyd Whaley took his daughter, Donna, to Omaha, on Monday after she had spent 2 weeks vacation at home. Donna is taking nurse's training.

"Voice of The Frontier," Mon., Wed., Sat., 9:45 a. m., WJAG.

Stephen E. Wallace Takes Bride

Miss Loretta E. Rieple, daughter of Mrs. Adolph Rieple, of Bellevue, became the bride of Stephen E. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Wallace, Saturday, September 2, at St. Mary's Catholic church at Bellevue at a 9 o'clock mass. Rev. Robert Garvey officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, George Rieple, wore a bridal gown of white satin and chantilly lace. A Juliet cap with seed pearls held her fingertip French veil of illusion. She carried a white orchid with Stephanotis.

Bridesmaid was Miss Kathleen McGrath, of Omaha. She wore a rose taffeta gown and a matching headband. She carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom wore a dark blue suit with a white carnation boutonniere. His bestman, Robert Wallace, brother of the bridegroom, also wore a dark blue suit and white carnation boutonniere.

Donald Walters, of Atchinson, Kans., and Dale A. Kersbrook, of O'Neill, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress and matching accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother.

The bride is a graduate from St. Catherine's school of nursing, Omaha. The bridegroom is a senior medical student at Creighton university, Omaha, and is a member of Phi Beta Pi — medical fraternity. After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the couple will live in Omaha.

Clements-Adams Nuptials in Omaha

Miss Donna Rae Clements, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clements, of O'Neill, and James Paul Adams son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faudt, of Omaha, were married Sunday afternoon, August 27.

Rev. Edward Hunkeler performed the 1:45 o'clock ceremony at St. Peter's church.

A rosepoint lace gown made with a full skirt and train and an illusion veil with a seed pearl trimmed tiara were worn by the bride. She carried glamelias.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Joan Shively, of Lincoln, was maid-of-honor; Miss Beverly Marckoff and Miss Shirley Mae Paotta, bridesmaids, and Miss Connie Jo Bazelman, junior bridesmaid. All wore pastel shaded lace ballerina - length gowns and carried pom-poms and chrysanthemums.

Robert Cements, of O'Neill, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Sgt. Patrick O'Conner, jr., of Ft. Riley, Kans., and William Wilson, of Lincoln.

Following a reception at the Birchwood club, the couple left for Yellowstone park. They will live in Lincoln while Mr. Adams continues his studies at the University of Nebraska.

Helen Spence An Atkinson Bride

ATKINSON — Miss Helen Spence became the bride of Richard Braun Monday evening, September 4, at 6 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Col. Spence, and Mr. Braun is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Braun.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Hughes in the Methodist church before an altar decked with gladiola and lighted with candelabra.

Proceeding the ceremony, Dale Jarvis sang "Because" and following the ceremony Elaine Harshfield sang "The Lord's Prayer." Both were accompanied by Bonnie Humphrey on the piano.

The bride's gown of white satin ended in a chapel train. It had a net yoke and small Bertha collar and buttoned down the back. She carried a bouquet of white gladiola centered with an orchid. Her double veil of net covered a lace half hat.

Her matron-of-honor was Mrs. Betty Seibert, sister of the bridegroom. The 5 bridesmaids were Anita Anson, Jean Humphrey, Joan Jarvis and Kathryn Braun, all of Atkinson, and Mickey Lamb, of Omaha cousin of the bride. They were gowned in orchid yellow and aqua taffeta, styled similar to that of the bride. They wore matching colored elbow - length half mitts and carried baskets of mari-golds.

Dennis Spence, brother of the bride, was ring bearer and Nancy Jean Lamb, gowned as a miniature bride in white satin and veil, was flower girl.

Little Charles Braun, brother of the bridegroom, lighted the candelabra.

The bridegroom and his attendant, Gary Spence, wore dark business suits with white carnation boutonnières. The ushers were Lyle Addison, Orlean Anson, Donald Braun, Orville Forbes and Albert Lamb.

Mrs. Spence chose a brown suit with dark green accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Braun was gowned in a navy sheer with pink accessories and her corsage was pink roses.

The bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Lizzie Pelcer, 88, attended the wedding. Also present were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pelcer.

The Martha circle of the Methodist Ladies' Aid served at the reception.

The bride's cake was a 3-tier - frosted wholly in white, and was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. The bridegroom's cake was a 3-tier fruit cake made by the bride.

Guests who came from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. John Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Owens, of Holyoke, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. William Spence, of Ewing; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Krumm, of Omaha.

Groeger-Lower In Fall Wedding

ATKINSON — Miss Delores Groeger, daughter of Mrs. Julia Groeger, of Stanton, was united in marriage to James Lower, of Valentine, on Tuesday, September 5, at St. Joseph's Catholic church. Rev. A. A. Lehmann officiated.

The bride was gowned in traditional white satin with a long train. The bodice was fashioned in colonial style with a small hoop in the front of the skirt. It had a square neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. Her veil of French illusion was held with a satin pleated headband set with rhinestones. She carried a spray of white roses with long satin streamers that ended in tiny rosebuds and also a rosary. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Her matron-of-honor, Mrs. Geraldine Groeger, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a gown of aqua taffeta styled similar to the bride's and a corsage of camellia roses.

The bridegroom and his attendant, Robert Lower, wore business suits.

Miss Groeger chose a wine and tan dress with brown accessories for their honeymoon trip to the East.

A reception was held at the KC hall following the ceremony. The newlyweds will make their home in Valentine. Miss Groeger was a graduate of St. Joseph's hall in 1949 and has been employed in Valentine the past year.
