

Capital News . . . GOP Caravan Out Capitol Is Dull

LINCOLN—With the Republican caravan stealing most of the capitol's news-making officials, the week was dull at the state-house.

The campaigners wind up their tour of the Second congressional district this weekend, then next Monday will hit the home stretch with a tour of the first district.

On Wednesday, October 11, the caravan was to be in North Platte, Gothenburg, Cozad, Lexington, Kearney, Ravenna, Loup City and Broken Bow.

Today's (Thursday's) schedule calls for appearances in Ord, Burwell, Bartlett, Greeley, St. Paul and Grand Island. The candidates will take Friday off and on Saturday will visit Nebraska City, Plattsmouth, Papillion and Blair.

Towns on the schedule for Monday, October 16, are Crete, Friend, Exeter, Fairmont, Geneva, Sutton, Clay Center, Harvard and Hastings.

Next day, stops are slated at Minden, Holdrege, Elwood, Curtis, Hayes Center and Imperial.

During the first week of the tour, Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry grabbed most of the headlines with his attacks on the administration's foreign policy and his denunciation of Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Rep. Karl Stefan lashed at government spending and Gov. Val Peterson detailed the accomplishments of his administration, with a heavy accent on roads. Most of the state candidates did not make speeches, but were introduced to the street-corner crowds.

Governor Peterson was the caravan's first casualty. He joined the GOP faithful in Wahoo after speaking to a Presbyterian gathering at Bellevue.

As he mounted a truck to give a talk at Wahoo, he missed a step, fell and suffered a long cut on the inside of his arm. He also ruined a new suit.

After treatment by a Wahoo doctor, he continued with the barnstorming.

A 10 percent drop in Nebraska's agricultural income last year pulled the state's income payments and per capita income below 1948, but the totals still were the highest ever recorded. The figures are contained in a commerce department report published in a current bulletin of the Nebraska resources division.

Per capita income, while below the national average, was higher than the average for this district and was topped by only Wyoming and Colorado in this area. The Cornhusker state's per capita income for 1949 was $1,294, compared with the peak in 1948 of $1,468.

Higher costs of health services for Nebraska's needy accounted for 70 percent of the increase in the state assistance program's cost during the 1949-50 fiscal year, according to an official board of control report.

The cost of health services—drugs, hospitalization and medical care—shot up 27.4 percent during the year while the assistance program as a whole increased by only 8 percent. The cost of the program rose $1,320,000 while the cost of the health services was up $613,460, to $2,818,131.

Nursing home costs for the present quarter will be about double the $220,000 they cost early in 1948, the board said. The boost is in the cost per case, rather than in the number of cases.

Bad news for several Nebraska towns planning to build hospitals came this week from the state hospital advisory council.

Dr. Frank D. Ryder, state health director, said the council has withdrawn its preliminary approval of projects at Ogalala, Loup City and Schuyler and recommended deferment of all new hospital construction under the federal aid program.

Ryder said a cut in federal money allocated to Nebraska for the 1950-51 fiscal year made the action necessary. The Cornhusker state received $680,245 this year compared to $1,267,926 for the 1949-50 fiscal year.

The director said recent price trends require a "realistic" attitude toward the cost of constructing a hospital and the council will keep the $177,936 reserve to "assure full federal participation in construction of hospitals approved for federal funds during previous fiscal years."

Highway bids on an estimated $1,190,000 worth of work will be let October 26, the state highway department has announced. Proposed projects include:

State 51 east of Bancroft; state 91, Taylor-Burwell; West of Win-

HUSKER STORY ON KFAB . . . Nebraskans are mightily pleased with the football showing being made this year by its university. So is Coach Bill Glassford, Cornhusker football mentor (center). Obviously, the Husker head-man has some new ones up his sleeve as he has a pregame conference with KFAB sports director Lyle Bremser (left) and former All-American "Blue" Howell (right), also a member of the KFAB sports staff. KFAB is carrying all University of Nebraska football games again this year. The Huskers gained a 20-20 tie with Indiana in the opener on September 30 then spanked Minnesota, 32-26, last Saturday, avenging a decade of losses at the hands of the Gophers.

nebago; east of Thurston; Edison-Beaver City; Brady - Moorfield; state 23, Maywood-Curtis; state 9, Wakefield-Allen; state 67, east of Brock.

The state game commission is history, a total of $2,555,990. Secretary Paul Gilbert said the increased costs and construction programs accounted for much of the increase over the last biennium's $1,920,964.

For the first time, federal funds are available for fisheries and must be matched by state funds.

Corn Estimates Up— Favorable weather in September added nearly seven million bushels to Nebraska's 1950 corn crop, the department of agriculture indicated Tuesday.

The anticipated yield, based on conditions Oct. 1, is 238,608,000 bushels, compared with an estimate a month ago of 231,890,000 bushels. The estimated yield per acre has been hiked from 35 to 36 bushels.

Two months ago a yield of 33 bushels per acre was indicated. The 6,628,000 bushel increase reflects the cooperation which the behind schedule corn crop tember and precipitation was about average. But the first 10 days of the month saw a lot of sunshine which mature the crop and forestall heavy damage from the first big freeze which came this way.

There was no change in the estimate of a 83,578,000 winter wheat chop for the state. The spring wheat estimate likewise remained at 10 bushels per acre or 520,000 bushels.

For all kinds of wheat, Nebraska's production was placed at 84,098,000 bushels or 21.8 per acre.

"The law locks up the man or woman
Who steals the goose from off the common;
But leaves the greater villain loose
Who steals the common from the goose."

It is apple time again with some new varieties shown at the markets, but what has become of the old reliable Ben Davis?

Great Spiritual Film Showing—

"The Prince of Peace," new $2,500,000 Hallmark Production, in cinecolor, which has been breaking attendance records everywhere, is now showing at the Miller theatre in Atkinson.

This unusual two-hour attraction is a complete unit in itself, according to Mr. Miller being actually 2 stories in one. Scenes filmed in the breathtaking beauty of the Wichitas are the background for the powerful, moving story.

It is because the Lawton story of "The Prince of Peace" is so tremendous in scope, so beautiful in color, so sweeping in grandeur and so human in its theme that it is breaking boxoffice records from coast-to-coast. Its glorious and thrilling musical score and strong sermon-on-film has caused clergymen of every faith and educators at all levels to call the film the most important motion picture ever to come out of Hollywood.

"The Prince of Peace" is a movie for the entire family. Father and mother will thrill to its majestic beauty while little brother and sister will delight in the new six-year-old child star, Ginger Prince, making her first screen appearance.

Film will play today (Thursday) and Friday.
