Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies of 1951 at Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum, Nov. 6

Aja Vrzanova, Czech star of Ice Follies, demonstrates perfect form in difficult split jump.

Roy and Eddie Shipstads and Oscar Johnson were so pleased with their reception in Omaha last year they decided it was one place they must play, so Omaha is now on the permanent itinerary of the world famous "Ice Follies."

"Ice Follies of 1951," the great new show, will start the Omaha ice season when it appears at the Coliseum for seven days starting November 6th. Performances will be given each evening Monday, November 6th, through Sunday, November 12th, at 8:30, with matinees Saturday, November 11th, and Sunday, November 12th, at 2:15.

"Ice Follies" was the original ice show and this year will mark its 15th anniversary. To celebrate this event the old masters, Roy and Eddie Shipstads and Oscar Johnson, have come up with a recipe for entertainment which combines fantasy, fun, beauty and glamour.

New Stars Added
The dozen production numbers include: "The Baker's Treat," in which all the important bakery products—bread, pies, doughnuts, cakes, gingerbread cookies and cup cakes—all come to life in giant form: "A Beautiful Rainy Day," a beautiful fantasy complete with fairies, pixies, and leprechauns with fantastic plastic costumes in delicate shades of green; "Ballet De Splendeur," with the sheer grandeur and tradition of old France plus the grace and poised beauty of the figure-skating ballet.

All the old favorites are on hand including (among many others) Betty Schalow, Mae Ross, Marilyn and Ruth Take, Phyllis and Harris Legg, Norena and Norris, Frick and Frack, and Omaha's own skating stars, the Scotvold Twins. Also, two new stars have been added to the always top talent for which Ice Follies is noted. They are Aja Vrzanova and Richard Dwyer.

Richard Dwyer, whose parents formerly lived in North Platte, Neb., bids fair to rival Roy Shipstads in his "Man About Town" presentation. In top hat, white tie and tails, Richard Dwyer looks the perfect part when he skates out on the ice.

Comedy has not been neglected. Ice Follies returns with the greatest of them all, Frick and Frack, in their frantic antics; Les Hamilton, in one of his trickiest garbs; Ole Ericsen and John Mulvey, portraying "Ponchito," the recalcitrant burro; and Dick Rasmussen and Bill Cameron, with a sidesplitting skit in the "Roaring Twenties" production number.

Ice Follies presents a combination of speed, beauty, dazzling costumes, marvelous lighting and extravagant production never before equaled. It is truly a show for the whole family.
