

Keim Discusses S. A. Agriculture

The members and visitors of the O'Neill Rural Youth were honored by the visit of Dr. F. W. Keim, head of the department of agronomy at the University of Nebraska.

Doctor Keim presented a five-point program for living. He also showed movies of Central America and compared agricultural practices there to those in the U. S.

This meeting was the annual parents' night when the members of the group entertained their parents. Many of the parents attended.

Marlene Reimer sang two numbers. They were tape recorded.

A number of members plan to attend the Rural Youth day to be held in Omaha October 23 to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Howard Temple, assistant county agent, told the group of the many activities that may be attended. They include several tours, a banquet, and a big square dancing party at the coliseum.

Plans were made for a Halloween party to be held at the annex Friday evening. The party will have the "hard time" theme this year.

Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Trowbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Beckwith, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mellor and James, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sanders, Judy and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Price, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reimer and Elayne, Mrs. John Krysl, Eileen Krysl, Robert Martens, Merwyn French, Jr., Howard Temple, Mrs. Neil Dawes, Dr. F. W. Keim and Mrs. Ben Wayman.

A variety of recreation was enjoyed by everyone. Lunch was served.

An executive meeting to nominate officers for the coming year was held Wednesday evening, October 18, at the Beryl Damkroger home in O'Neill. Election will be held at the regular meeting in November.

Make Final Plans for Booth

The Vets Farmerettes met at the home of Mrs. Berl Damkroger on Monday evening, October 16, with seven members present. Four visitors, Mrs. Harold Darr, Mrs. George Wettlaufer, Mrs. Soren Sorensen, jr., and Mrs. Ruben Redlinger, were also present. Final arrangements for the achievement day booth were made and topics for new meetings were discussed.

Mrs. Boyd Boelter and Mrs. Berl Damkroger presented the lesson on "Meat Cookery—Tender Cuts." Following the demonstration the husbands were served a lunch of sandwiches, pie, ice cream and coffee.

Atkinson Driver Escapes Narrow Escape

John Fox, of Atkinson, escaped with bruises at 6:30 a. m. Sunday when his empty truck hit a bridge and rolled over four miles east of Meadow Grove on highway 275. Patrolman James Kontos of the state patrol, of Norfolk, reported.

Fox told the patrolman that he dropped a cigaret he was smoking and as he reached down to pick it up he apparently turned the steering wheel.

Fox was pinned in the truck cab from which he was rescued by two other truck drivers and a farmer.

The truck was badly wrecked.

Demos, GOPs Check Financing Methods

Solicit 'Liquor' Money—LINCOLN — The Nebraska political campaign heated up this week with the November election less than two weeks away.

The two parties took time out from plugging their candidates to chuck charges at each other's financing methods.

The Republicans started it when Douglas County Chairman William H. Thomas revealed that Democrats had sent letters to "liquor interests" asking financial support. Persons licensed by the state liquor commission are prohibited by law from making political contributions.

State Chairman William Meier, of Minden, denied there was anything illegal about the Democrats' methods of picking up money and promptly accused the Republicans of taking funds from "certain prominent individuals" who were turning their "social gambling winnings" over to the GOP coffers.

Republican Chairman David Martin called Meier's charge "a smoke screen to cover up his embarrassment over the letters that went out to the Nebraska liquor interests."

Hahn Lands Blow—Meanwhile, the opponents of Gov. Val Peterson's highway program got in two of their best licks of the campaign.

Herbert Hahn, secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Marketers association, one of the several groups battling the gas tax and registration fee hikes, revealed here that H. G. Greenamyre, executive secretary of the Better Nebraska association, is secretary and a director of the Mid-West Lumber, Bridge and Supply company, of Lincoln, a firm from which the state highway department purchases materials.

Nebraska Prepares

Civil defense planning in Nebraska is at least on a par with that of most states, Edward Gillette, vice chairman of the state advisory committee, reported last week on his return from a meeting in Washington of western state directors.

Gillette urged cities and counties in the Cornhusker state to get to work, using as a guide the Symington report, without waiting for an over-all state plan. "This is the plan," the state treasurer said, indicating blue-covered Symington report.

Meanwhile, Vernon Zimmerman, state relations director for the Red Cross, said the national organization's program calls for instruction of 10,000,000 persons in first aid this year and many others in home nursing. The government soon will begin to request blood from local organizations, Zimmerman said, to stockpile plasma.

Seeks to Prevent 'Another Kearney'

Otto G. Ruff, state superintendent of public instruction, has asked school boards in seven Nebraska cities which have housing projects on their municipal airfields to report to him on school conditions at the bases.

Ruff said he was taking the step to "prevent another Kearney."

The Kearney board of education refused to accept about 20 children living on the air base there until tuition was paid in advance. The field is not taxed for school purposes.

4400 FARMERS KILLED
300,000 INJURED

DON'T "CULTIVATE" ACCIDENTS ON YOUR FARM

A field half plowed—a furrow left unturned—work stopped by accident!

To the farmer, working against time and weather, delay can mean the difference between a crop and no crop, a good year or a lean one. So accidents have no place in his schedule; they cost money, delay production—and the growing season keeps rolling along.

Yet, farming ranks third most hazardous in eight major industries. Think of it, while the death rate for all industry is 29 per 100,000 workers, in agriculture it is 55 per 100,000! One farmer in every 15 is injured on the job! Total—4400 killed, 300,000 disabled by injury every year.

The wise farmer knows where his hazards are—and avoids them. Falls, machinery and animals account for most accidents down on the farm. Their annual cost—$75,000,000. Yet, they're so easy to prevent. Just a little caution is all it takes.

Don't "cultivate" accidents and losses! Instead, "cultivate" safety and success!
