Mystery Fire in Church Basement

ATKINSON—The Atkinson fire department was called about 6 o'clock Monday evening, December 11, to help locate the origin of an intense smoke pouring from the basement of the Methodist church. Rev. E. G. Hughes had tried for a time to locate the cause but finally gave up and called the department.

The smoke was discovered coming from a box of canned fruit that had been left in the basement to be sent to Mother Jewel's home at York.

It is not known what caused the fire. There was no blaze but the box had been burned away from the fruit. The smoke was so dense that it was difficult to locate the source. No other damage was done.

Fire Petitions To Be Circulated

ATKINSON—A spokesman for the group of firemen, ranchers and farmers of the Atkinson community, who are seeking a way to organize an efficient rural fire protection association, said they got the ball rolling Saturday evening, December 9.

Attendance at the meeting was not as large as it was hoped it would be, however, and the group urges those interested to be ready to talk over the proposition with the men who will be coming at homes in the near future.

There is a great deal of legal procedure to go through before an organization of this kind can be a success, the spokesman explained.

Plans were discussed that would call for the levying of a "very small tax — perhaps one mill" on those residing in the district to be served. This money would be used to buy equipment and keep the organization running. It is understood that it will be possible to borrow money to buy this equipment as soon as a workable plan has been put into effect.

Two men were appointed from each township to be served to contact all the farmers and ranchers with a petition on the tax levy. It is necessary to have at least a 60 percent sign-up before anything can be done about borrowing money.

The committee hopes to have these petitions in by the next meeting on Saturday evening, December 16. All farmers are urged to attend. The meeting will be held at the K. C. hall in Atkinson in the room at the west end of the building.
