Plainview Hits OHS Eagles, 62-47

Plainview high school basketballers fashioned a nifty upset Tuesday night by downing the favored O'Neill high Eagles, 62-47. The spill tosses a bombshell into the district class B tourney to be held in March.

The Eagles were rated a strong favorite to win the meet but the Tuesday episode throws new light on the B scramble.

Plainview grabbed an early lead and was never headed. It was O'Neill's third loss in 17 starts.

Ted Linberg, O'Neill long boy, headed the scoring column with 21 points.

Plainview seconds won the pre-view, 33-32.

4 Teams Seeded in District B

Collins Sale Draws from 22 Counties

It pays to advertise! The Lloyd Collins sale of farm machinery, held at the east outskirts of O'Neill on Saturday, attracted buyers and spectators from 22 counties in four states.

The Frontier directed the distribution of printer's ink and radio script and in seven days of concentrated "plugging" the sale attracted widespread interest. An estimated 1,500 persons were on the sale grounds at one time.

Collins offered new and used machinery of all makes. The auction was blessed by the weatherman and major items were sold to buyers from as far distant as Beatrice, Nebr., Mission, S. D., and Luverne, Minn.

Mercury that day climbed to 60 degrees. A near-record Saturday shopping crowd came to town.

The Collins sale grossed 38-thousand-dollars.

Two important registered Hereford sales are on The Frontier's sale calendar:

On Saturday, February 24, the North-Central Nebraska Hereford association will conduct its 20th annual spring sale at Bassett. Forty-four bulls will be sold. Show will begin at 10 a.m., with Benton Marshall, of Crawford, the judge. Sale will start at 1 p.m.

Tug Phillips, of Bassett, is secretary-manager. Among the consignors are: Floyd Arrowsmith, of Newport; Harry J. Brown, of Bassett; H. J. Buell, of Rose; Floyd Burkinshaw, of Herrick, S. D.; Charles Dorsey, of Newport; Dallas Dorsey, of Newport; Marvin Johnson, of Newport; Charles J. Johnson, of Rose; Stanley Larson, of Bassett; Harold Melcher, of Page; C. E. Miller, of Bassett; Chas. H. Morton, of Duff; Irvin D. Nicholson, of Springfield; Bernard C. Phifer & Sons, of Long Pine; Dean Rowse, of Bassett; F. E. Titus & Sons, of Springfield; H. A. & R. E. Van Horn, of Page; Artice N. Wentworth, of Mills; F. E. Wentworth, of Mills; Henry Wood, of Ewing.

Thirty-six bulls and four females will be offered at auction by the Niobrara Valley Hereford association at Butte on Tuesday, March 13. W. G. ("Walt") Sire, of Butte, is manager. Catalogs are available upon request.

On Monday, February 26, Leo Gokie will sell his personal property at auction. Gokie lives 2 miles north and 2 miles west of Danceland. Col. Wallace O'Connell is auctioneer. (See page 7 for details.)

On Tuesday, February 27, Bernard L. Rickard, of Chambers, will offer his personal property for sale at the John Honeywell place, 26 miles south of O'Neill on U.S. highway 281 and 2 miles west.

Included in the offering are 48 head of cattle, a complete line of farm and haying machinery. Col. Ed Thorin, of Chambers, will be auctioneer; Chambers State bank, clerk. (For details consult advertisement on page 2.)

Woody Grim, owner, and Keith Abart, auctioneer-broker, are offering two houses in O'Neill at auction on Monday, February 26. One is a modern house, the other a structure recently moved onto a residential lot. (See details on page 6.)
