THURSDAY-This was a big day. Attorney-General C. S. Beck ruled that one-ball machines and pinball machines which yield free games were illegal gambling devices. Charges have been made of "payoffs" by Omaha tavern operators to protect oneball machines. Sen. Hugh Carson, of Ord, who is responsible for the probe of the liquor commission, demanded that the members be suspended pending the outcome of the investigation. The governor said he couldn't do that as a matter of "fair play." Then Carson suggested that the legislature impeach the commis-

FRIDAY-Commenting on a proposed bill by Senator Carson overhauling the organization of the commission, Governor Peterson said a law enforcement officer could accomplish the same thing as a department director, as proposed by Carson. But, said Peterson, he was willing to study Carson's proposal on its merits. At the same press conference, the governor announced that he would ask the legislature this week to approve a bill to provide for automatic suspensions of the license of establishments convicted of employing gambling and they fire. at Thursday's Sale

There was a good run of hogs at the O'Neill Livestock Market on Thursday, March 15, but cattle receipts were rather light. Bulk of the top butcher hogs sold from $21.60 to $21.80 with an extreme top of $22.00. There were a lot of feeder pigs on the Thursday offering, but the O'Neill market was only fairnot as high as it has been in recent weeks.

Top light steers were quoted at $42.75 and there was a good demand for these. Yearling steers were quoted from $36.00 to $40.00. Cows were moving around $24.00.
