There are many ways in which state-wide electric power benefits Nebraskans in all walks of life. It has helped to increase business and industrial activity which creates more jobs-greater opportunities. It has increased farm electrification bringing greater farm production and more enjoyable farm life. It has enabled homes in small communities and large to enjoy more comfortable modern living. And with all this, Nebraska's statewide electric system-operated for the sole benefit of Nebraskans-has made electricity the biggest bargain for Nebraskans.

The Farmer "I can still remember how hard and unpleasant farming was before I got electricity." State-wide electric power is helping the farmer to enjoy life and more profitable farming.
