2-Headed Calf Birth a Failure

CELIA—Last week one of the white face cows belonging to the Stanley Johnson herd tried to give birth to a two-headed calf.
 Both heads were active, they were perfectly formed and they properly joined the neck. An Atkinson veterinarian was called.
 The doctor was obliged to remove the two front legs to get the calf, but the calf died.
 The cow, however, survived the ordeal.

Hospital Benefit Big Success—

STUART—A large crowd attended the Community hospital benefit auction in Stuart Saturday, April 7.

Donations for the listing were "overwhelming" and included livestock, feed, machinery, trucks, cars, household furniture, clothing, food and miscellaneous articles.

While the proceeds haven't been completely counted because part of the listings were on a percentage basis, the committee is confident that with donations already received they can pay in full for the new General Electric X-ray fluoroscope now installed at the hospital.

Truck Jack-Knives; Vet Driver Quits

A spectacular accident occurred Thursday afternoon 5 miles west of O'Neill on highway 20 about 1 o'clock. A semi-trailer truck loaded with eggs struck a soft spot in the road, causing the driver to lose control of the new Diamond T tractor and send it lurching into the opposite ditch.
 After striking the ditch, the tractor jackknifed onto the tractor portion of the unit, completely demolishing the cab. The driver, a 15-year veteran of steering trucks, was unhurt except for minor cuts and bruises. He stated that in his 15 years of driving this was his first accident and also his last, for he was "through driving trucks." The driver's name was Elmer Stetler, of Sturgis, S. D.
