Sprinkler Confuses Weather Observer

The official O'Neill rain gauge did not tell the truth Wednesday morning. It reported several inches of rain between 6 and 7 o'clock.

But that was a big exaggeration—and this is why:

The official gauge is located on the Holt county courthouse lawn—and that's where Government Weather Observer Elmer Bowen makes his readings as regular as a clock. But, Tuesday evening a water sprinkler was positioned near the gauge—little did anyone know there was going to be a nice shower.

The gauge Wednesday showed knows there wasn't that much about 3 inches—and everybody moisture. Unofficially, it is believed a half-inch of rain fell here.

Rainfall at Valentine Wednesday morning totaled 2 1/4 inches.
