

McClurg-Rainey Nuptials Exchanged

STUART—The Cleveland Presbyterian church, north of Stuart, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday, August 27, at 10 a.m., when Miss Helen McClurg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McClurg, became the bride of Sterling P. Rainey, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling P. Rainey, sr., of Louviers, Colo. The church was decorated with bouquets of garden flowers.

Miss Onie McClurg played several piano selections preceding the ceremony. She also was accompanist for Wally Bekowies, of Detroit, Mich., who sang "I Love Thee," "O Perfect Love" and "A Wedding Prayer." The doubling ceremony was performed by Rev. Orin Graff.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and buttoned in front with tiny satin covered buttons and which had a lace yoke with a small Peter Pan collar. The sleeves were long and came to a point at the wrist. The full skirt had side panels of imported chantilly lace. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a stephanotis head band. She carried a shower bouquet of red and white roses with white streamers.

Miss Naomi Wellensick, of Syracuse, was maid-of-honor and wore an orchid gown of taffeta and net fashioned with a bodice that came to a point in front and had a wide bertha collar. The skirt had side panels of net and a large taffeta sash. She wore a matching head band of net.

The bridesmaids' gowns were fashioned identically with that of the maid-of-honor. Miss Laura Mulford wore a gown of aqua. Miss Charlotte Chappin, of Oceanside, Ore., wore Nile green and Donna McClurg, junior bridesmaid, wore yellow. They wore matching head bands of net and carried colonial bouquets of gladiolus with streamers, which matched their dresses.

Miss Onie McClurg's gown was identical with the bridesmaids' in pink.

The bridegroom was attended by Ted Carison, of Wakefield, Vernon McClurg and William Mulford were ushers. They wore business suits with white carnation boutonnières.

The bride's mother wore a beauty blue crepe gown with white accessories and a red rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray 2-piece crepe with lavender accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the basement of the church. The 3-tier wedding cake was baked by Mrs. Charles Mulford. Mrs. Arlin Caster was in charge of the reception.

The wedding trip to Spokane, Wash., will be by way of the Black Hills and Yellowstone park.

The bride is a graduate of Stuart high school, the commercial extension school of Commerce in Omaha and Hastings college. She also attended the University of Nebraska. She taught home economics in Sheldon Jackson junior college at Sitka, Alaska, the past year.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Douglas county high school, Castle Rock, Colo., attended Hastings college and Whitworth college, Spokane, Wash. He served in World War II in the Japan area.

The couple will reside at Whitworth college, in Spokane, Wash., where the bridegroom is completing his final year, majoring in applied music.

The bride is employed as secretary to the registrar at the college.

WIND WRECKS HOG SHED... Leo Turay miles northeast of O'Neill. Also damaged were points to a demolished hog shed that yielded ungrain bin, windmill, hay rack and virtually all der Sunday night's tornadic wind. Steel roof roofs on the place.—The Frontier Photo & Engraving.

Redbird Hit by Record High Water

At the John Dalton place, the combination flash-flood and wind washed out a bridge and changed the course of the creek, with the resultant loss of trees and fences.

Edward Krugman reported that 20 out of 24 stacks were upset and must be restacked. About a dozen large cottonwood trees were blown down.

Enormous Hail Stones Fall—

CELIA — About 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening at the Mark and Joe Hendricks ranches, about 15 miles north of Atkinson, there was a hard downpour of rain accompanied by scattered hailstones. Some of the stones were enormous. One was 14 inches in circumference and hundreds of the stones measured 6- and 10-inches in circumference. These measurements were taken some time after the storm, which means the stones might have shrunk a little by melting.

The Frontier's correspondent in that locality, Mrs. O. A. Hammerberg, reported that those larger hail stones had very jagged edges and the rain and hail were accompanied by a strong wind. The hail, she said, didn't do too much damage. The storm was short-lived but the stones, what few of them that fell, were enormous.

Four miles west of the Hendricks places there was up to 2 inches of rainfall and hailstones that compared in size with baseballs at the Milton McKathnie place. A number of chickens were killed at the Ed Bausch farm, east of McKathnie's.

Week's weather summary, based on 24-hour periods ending at 6 p.m., daily, follows:

Crellin Ends 30-Year Career

In the navy Mr. Crellin was a musician. He has served on both city and school boards at Ewing and has always been active in Republican circles. His hobby is fishing.

In 1921 the young war veteran married Alice Stainton, of Omaha, a registered nurse. They became the parents of a daughter, Mrs. Cecil G. (Martha) Rickard, of Spokane, Wash.

About 4 months ago Mr. Crellin was obliged to undergo surgery. During that period The Advocate has been printed by the Clearwater Record (M. H. Snider, publisher).

Under Miss Drayton, full operation of the Advocate plant will be resumed.

The new publisher is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drayton, of Orchard. She was born at Neligh, reared at Orchard, attended the University of Nebraska. The past 5 years she has spent in Kansas City, Mo.

Many of her personal effects went through the recent Kansas flood and Miss Drayton decided to make a change. She'd always wanted to be in the newspaper field in her former surroundings. This was her opportunity. She bought.

Miss Drayton explains that "Mr. Crellin has consented to linger around in an advisory capacity. I'm a novice and I'm more than pleased that Mr. Crellin will be with us."

Mr. Crellin added, "My wife and I cannot think of leaving Ewing. No other place could be home to us."

Mrs. Clifford Pitcock and son, Stephen, spent last week with Mrs. Richard Hovey.
