

The Frontier Woman —

Pop, It's Time to Install Those Storm Windows Again!

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

You may not know it, pop, but the time is creeping up on you. One of these days you'll have to take down the screens and install the storm windows. To identify screens and storm sash, mark them and the window sills with corresponding numbers. If you use a screw driver you can indent roman numerals quite easily and repeating will not obliterate them.

You can remove old putty from the windows very easily if you will run a red hot poker or soldering iron over it slowly. The putty should not be melted, just warmed.

It's getting around to sweet potato time. To prevent sweet potatoes from turning dark, peel them in a pan of water and then immediately drop into a pan of boiling water for cooking.

Did you ever try grating orange rind into the devil's food cake batter before baking? It gives the cake a delicious flavor. Try it the next time you mix one up.

Next time you make a spice cake, try this icing. Take 1/2 cup of brown sugar and mix with a little cream and flavor with cinnamon. Spread on the cake while it's still hot and place again in the oven on the top grate for 5- or 10-minutes.

Next time you make a chocolate frosting, use cold coffee instead of milk. You'll like the flavor if you like coffee.

Want to give your salmon loaf a delightful new flavor? Add 1/2 teaspoon of ground sage. Another variation for salmon loaf or patties is to add about a tablespoon of salad dressing to the salmon mixture. It gives a different taste.

Seldom Wins but Clicks This Time—

Mrs. G. P. Menkens, of O'Neill, wins our subscription prize. Dear Blanche:

I read in The Frontier where you needed more letters. Well, here goes. We go to Atkinson quite often to church and I often think of you, wonder if I have ever met you and not know it. I didn't know your boy was old enough for service, until I read it in The Frontier.

I know how you must watch that old mail box for letters from your loved one.

I had 3 brothers and a lot of cousins in the last war. Those red, white and blue airmail letters really meant a lot as I knew they were from my 2 brothers that were somewhere overseas.

I'll put a cookie recipe in this letter, it's a good cookie to send, as it doesn't crumble very easily. Oh hum, a big ironing to do besides my work. Can't complain, must keep busy, or I get the blues.

We have had our share of bad luck the past few months. First my brother and his wife lost their baby son, then my uncle died, then my husband's cousin. Also a brother had an appendicitis operation. I guess we can't fuss. Because after all, God knows what is best for us.

I always raise some flowers to help keep up my morale. I'm a real flower lover and I have some nice house plants, too. Well, I hope this letter will get into the paper.

I seldom ever win, even a 3-months' subscription. Here's the cookie recipe:

FORK COOKIES

One cup lard (or 1/2 cup each lard and butter), 1 1/2 cups sugar, 4 cups flour, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 1/2 teaspoons soda, pinch of salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup raisins, ground if desired. Mix all together thoroughly until well blended. Take a small amount in hand and roll into a ball, and press with a fork onto a cookie sheet. Bake until light brown. Makes about 4 dozen.

I will put my mother's favorite cake in 'also. It may be a help to someone. We all like it very much.

TILDEN CAKE

One cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup sweet milk, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup cornstarch, 4 eggs, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons lemon extract, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Mix in order given. Bake in moderate oven until toothpicks come out clean. This is for a big cake, and it's good for school lunches.

Well, I guess I'd better sign off and hit the hay. Surely enjoy your column, "Lines From a Little House." So, Blanche, keep up the good work and if you get the blues, just leave things as they are. Get outside where God is near, out in the open where the birds sing their praises to the Lord.

SANDHILL SAL

With so many people trying to be somebody, if you really want to be different, just be yourself. I'm not surprised to find out they can make synthetic rubber out of potatoes. For the last 5 years I have been aware that potatoes produce spare tires.

Youths to Hear Blind Pastor

Sunday, September 30, a large delegation of youth from the O'Neill Presbyterian church will attend the annual fall rally of Westminster Fellowship at the First Presbyterian church in Norfolk. The youth rally is held twice each year for the Presbyterian churches of northeast Nebraska.

Feature speaker at the rally will be Rev. Robert S. Kieser, blind pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, of Springfield, Ill. Reverend Kieser will be accompanied by his seeing eye dog, Prue, a large German shepherd.

With the aid of his dog, Reverend Kieser carries on his regular pastoral duties. The dog lies quietly at his feet when he is in the pulpit and some of his people insist that she bows her head when he prays.

Pastor Kieser travels widely with his dog giving his address, "Adventures in Darkness." In his lecture he demonstrates how the dog works, and tells how seeing eye dogs are trained. Reverend Kieser also uses his relationship with his dog to illustrate spiritual truth and brings out unforgettable lessons in faith and guidance.

His address appeals to young and old alike and his listeners are challenged by his message. They also come away with a new conception of what handicapped people can do, and how they may live useful, happy and normal lives.
