I WISH to extend my deepest gratitude to the many dear friends and relatives who remembered me so kindly during my stay in the O'Neill hospital, and after my dismissal. The many pleasant visits, the beautiful flowers, the lovely cards, cheery notes and gifts, the loan of books and magazines all helped me to forget my injuries, and made my stay very pleasant. I appreciate your many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy more than you can ever know. I shall try to repay your kindness in a measure by grasping every opportunity to pass on kindness and sympathy to others who may be ill or in trouble. Gratefully yours,
