The Japanese Priest Said: "DOMINUS VOBISCUM"

It was early Sunday morning in Tokyo. A cosmopolitan congregation had assembled in the Catholic church for the first Mass of the day. Along with the Japanese present, there were English, French and Portuguese sailors, the family of a Belgian diplomat, Filipino business men and a sprinkling of U. S. Military Police.

The Japanese priest was compelled to start the service without an assistant to answer the prayers. He had hardly begun the Mass, when a burly GI rose from his seat, walked to the altar and took the place of the absent server.

"At first," he said afterwards, "I felt a little strange serving a Jap priest in a Jap church. But after he turned around and said in Latin: 'Dominus vobiscum' . . . I felt just the way I did when I served Father O'Malley in our church back home."

"Dominus vobiscum!" . . . "The Lord be with you!"

How familiar and homelike those Latin words sounded . . . to the English, the French, the Portuguese Belgians and Filipinos . . . for they had heard them Sunday after Sunday in their own church at home.

Despite their language differences, each could follow the prayers of the Mass . . . and the actions of the priest. For each had a double-column prayer book—one column in Latin, one in his native language.

Many services of divine worship in the Catholic Church are conducted in the native language of the people. But the Mass . . . the official and world-wide act of Catholic worship . . . is generally conducted in Latin because this dead language never changes and is most appropriate to express the fundamentally unchanging worship instituted by Christ at the Last Supper.

Perhaps you have heard Catholics speak of the Mass . . . or have seen them thronging to Mass on Sunday and other days. If you would like to know more about the Mass . . . and why the Mass attracts millions of Catholics to church regularly . . . we will be happy to send you a free pamphlet explaining the Mass and reasons behind it in a clear-cut manner. Write today . . . ask for Pamphlet No. 6-N.

Monogram OILFIRE HOME HEATERS

MORE HEAT PER GALLON OF OIL . . .

Big, powerful furnace-like heating unit with over 4,000 square inches of radiation surface, featuring the new TWIN AIR FLUES and MONOGRAM Patented "Vaporizing" Oil Burner — all scientifically coordinated to obtain the best heating results possible at the lowest cost.

TRIMATIC 1 DIAL CONTROL

One OIL control—(1) the flow of oil, (2) the draft to burner, (3) circulation of heated air with OIL motor and OIL fan.

The dial is conveniently located in back of heater for easy operation.

Constant level float valve assures even flow of oil to burner. No danger of overflowing.

A Powerful Verified Air Impeller moves 30,000 cubic feet of air an hour. Provides draft to burner PLUS circulation of heated air.

A CLEAN, FLAME GAS FUEL MADE FROM OIL

Only MONOGRAM has this Patented "Vaporizing" Oil Burner. The secret of its successful performance and low cost operation is that it turns the oil into gas quickly, completely, then mixes this gas with both primary and secondary air like a gas burner, resulting in a clean, quiet gas flame made from oil.
