ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

In the scroll of the illustrious men who have lived and died for America, no name shines more brightly than that of Abraham Lincoln, the rugged, typically American figure whose deeds and words are a light and an inspiration for all the time to come. For Abraham Lincoln was not born to pomp and power: Abraham Lincoln had no heritage of wealth or royal blood: Abraham Lincoln had no smooth road to tread. What he accomplished came of the sweat of his brow, the labor of his hands, the straining of his every faculty. And at the last his life was lost in the great cause for which he had fought with an ardor seldom equaled in history.

A poor boy was our Lincoln, without even the advantage of an easily accessible education he trod miles to get a book, which he studied in the cabin firelight of his humble home. Tall and ungainly, a veritable tree of strength and courage, he strode from the log cabin to the White House.

Few men have inspired such reverence as he. Writers have split hairs about the qualities of the great of our land; the one unassailable figure, perhaps, is Abraham Lincoln. No one has split hairs about the character of the revered rail splitter; it shines through the ages with undiminished flame; his heart-beat still echoing in the nation today.

BRISTOW NOSES OUT O'NEILL.

(Bristow Enterprise.)

Did we have a basket-ball game? Say we didn't have anything else. Last Thursday evening the O'Neill basket artists journeyed over the Bristow way with their caps on the side of their heads, chests thrown out and a big confident smile on their faces. And why not? Weren't they the undefeated bunch from that vast metropolis of Holt County? They went back after the game and how. But that's going ahead of the story.

The first quarter was a ladies ten party. Both teams were very polite. Bristow had one of its substitutes in and their team work was ragged. O'Neill showed lots of class in their team work but they couldn't get around the big Bristow guards for any great amount of counters so the quarter ended with the score, O'Neill 8 Bristow 4. At the beginning of the second quarter Bristow substituted Ted Scheissler for Fedderson, and the party began to get rough. Bristow made one and Jack Scheissler, dribbling the ball down was slapped in the eye and had to be taken out. Peanuts Bennett took his place and the game progressed merrily. Bristow was battling to tie the score and the O'Neill machine was playing a beautiful passing pivot game. This quarter was just a little faster than the first and gave the fans a promise of supreme basket-ball before the game was over. Scores at the half 10 to 8 O'Neill.

The third quarter opened up like a tornado had been let loose some where. Boy how things did go! First under the O'Neill basket, then back to Bristow's goal, clean fast, hard fighting. Slap Slap hear those shoes hit the floor. Bang the ball hits the board. The game still holding fairly even and at the end of the third quarter the score was knotted at 13 apiece.

The last quarter saw two championship teams fighting as if in a championship battle. Up and down the floor the ball went. Then Bristow put it through the hoops three times in about a minute and a half and then O'Neill came right back with three in about 30 seconds. One of the Bristow boys slipped in another one and about a minute later the game was over. Bristow 21 O'Neill 19.

Talk about a breath-taking hair-raising sport that game was it. And we are going to let you in on a little in-side dope—O'Neill is going to be here again on Thursday, February 9, and if any man, woman or child, not paralyzed or otherwise crippled, misses that game, they should be taken out and shot at sunrise.

I'll be there don't think I won't.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Third Grade: We have had perfect attendance in the third grade room for the past week. All of us have been getting 100 per cent in spelling each day. In a diagnostic test given to the A group the following people had a perfect paper: Ruth Osenbaugh, Ruth Templeton, Myrtle Brown, Magel Harbottle, Delta Gunn, and Ruth Myrl Harris. Gene Sanders is back in our room again. Out total enrollment is twenty-four at the present time. We were very glad to have Miss O'Donnell visit our room Monday. Fourth Grade: This week we have spent considerable time talking about good health habits of standing, walking, and sitting. We have taken many interesting imaginary trips to learn where the materials used in our homes are obtained. So far we have visited a lumber camp; a stone quarry and a brick yard. Today we are going to visit an iron mine.

Fifth and Sixth Grades: Miss Anna O'Donnell visited the Fifth and Sixth grades Monday afternoon.

The Fifth and Sixth grades are taking Diagnostic tests in Arithmetic this week. We are wondering who will have the highest score.

Eighth Grade The Normal Trainers visited the eighth grade Wednesday to observe a history lesson. In a contest on history dates Cecil Sparks, John Harbottle and Charles Meyers led the class. Miss Anna O'Donnell visited us Monday. The class has commenced drilling for either improvement or final certificates in penmanship, which ever the work merits. In English we have taken up the parsing of nouns and pronouns.

Parent-Teachers will meet Tuesday, February 14, at the High School Auditorium at 3:30, and we invite those who are interested in the welfare of the school to visit during the afternoon and attend the Parent-Teachers at 3:30.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

A correction has been made by the State Department in the interpretation of the new transportation law regarding the fee due parents whose children must travel over three miles to school. The law states that such families are entitled to five cents for each quarter of a mile or fraction thereof, that their children must travel to school over the three mile limit. There has been some discussion as to whether this means to and from school or only one way. It has been definitely decided that the law allows a family to draw mileage for only one way. This means that if a parent lives four miles from school he is entitled to draw twenty cents each day that his children attend school. This item is to correct the statement made from this office some time ago that the fee would be paid both ways as we had formerly had advice from the State Department to that effect. County Superintendent.

MARION JEAN PORTER.

(Chambers, Nebraska.)

The community was saddened, Friday, by the sudden death of little Marion Porter, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porter, of Chambers.

Marion Jean Porter was born at Chambers, Nebraska, January 21, 1926. She was a lovable child of a sunny disposition. She was ill only a few short hours. Death came so peacefully that the mother thought she had just fallen asleep. She passed away at her home Friday, February 3, 1928, at the age of 2 years and 14 days.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church where a large concourse of friends gathered to help the broken hearted parents to bear this great sorrow that has come to them so suddenly.

Besides the parents little Marion is survived by two sisters, Wanda and Evelyn, two-grandmothers, two grandfathers, several aunts, uncles and cousins. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Chambers cemetery.

A. C. MOHR.

The remains of A. C. Mohr, a former resident of the Hainsville neighborhood have been shipped to Spencer, Nebraska, where funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. Mohr has been making his home in the west for the past year or more since the death of his wife.

The deceased leaves a daughter, Mrs. Frank Mott, Spencer, Nebraska; a daughter, Mrs. Newland, Dexter, Missouri; three sons, Will and Harry, who are located in the west, and Alan, who is in the Y. M. C. A. work in New Jersey.

BRICK BATS.

The Judge's gavel cracks the bar, and district court is set, to let the lawyers fight and spar on murder, theft and debt. They call a jury, tried and true from city, farm and dale, to settle cases old and new, to sentence crooks to jail. Each lawyer then presents his case with fervor, vim and heat, while tears start trickling down his face, before he takes his seat. The witnesses then duly swear to tell the truth—no more. They bite their nails and pull their hair—they fear the lawyer's roar. The stage is set—the fight is on—objections fill the air, the lawyers, faces grim and drawn, like lions in the lair, demand that justice must be done and then when they are through, the jury files out one by one, to think, and smoke and chew. The bird on trial will go scot free or else he'll go to jail. It's clear as mud to you and me, as jurors we would fail. It leaves a question in our mind—should lawyers win with force—or taking facts that they can find—let justice take its course.—Briek Smith.

Why Raise Poland Chinas

Poland Chinas are the farmers' utility breed of hogs—the farm mortgage lifters.

Poland China sows are good mothers. They farrow and raise large litters of strong, fast growing pigs. Litters of 10 to 14 are common.

Poland Chinas have good feet and legs with plenty of bone and strong, arched backs. Their fine, glossy coats denote easy feeding qualities.

Poland Chinas will fatten at any age and produce what the public demands—superior quality of meat and lard.

Poland Chinas are adapted to all climatic and feed conditions. They produce pork cheaply from Canada to the Equator.

Poland Chinas produce more pounds of pork per pig or per litter at any given age than any other breed.

Poland Chinas have the world's heaviest litter and 10 of the 13 two-ton litters produced in four years.

Poland Chinas are best for pig club work because of their superior size and easy feeding qualities.

Poland Chinas are preferred by packers because the carcass gives the highest dressing percentage.

In the carcass contest at the International for 14 years, about 1,000 hogs of all breeds were entered. All the pigs were chosen for the same purpose, viz: To Win The Carcass Contest—regardless of breed.

The breeds in the order of dressing percentage as reported by Armour's Livestock Bureau, are as follows:

Breed	Dressing Percentage
Poland Chinas	83.62
Hampshire	82.44
Berkshire	82.29
Chester White	82.27
Duroc Jersey	81.90
Grade and Crossbred	81.33
Tamworth	79.78
Yorkshire	79.01
