The Glee clubs of the O'Neill High school will give the Operetta "Sylvia," on March 20th, at the K. C. Hall.

Second Grade—In a diagnostic test the following received 100 per cent: Margeret Wyant, Alice Sexsmith, Elizabeth Graves, Hilda Peters, Robert Sauers, Robert Hancock, and Richard Aronld. In a test on Comprehension of silent reading the following received high score: Wayne Harding, Grace Revell, Marvin Van Every, Robert Gunn, Richard Clyde, Lurlean Kirkpatrick, James Beers and Vernon Spengler.

We are sorry to lose Arlene Schriener, who moved to the country last week.

Fifth and Sixth Grades—The following pupils have been neither absent nor tardy during the past six weeks: Merle Arnold, Muriel Britnell, Warren Densberger, Orville Green, Marjorie Hunt, Anna Toy, Dorothy Timmerman, Jean Rummell, Nona Bressler, Pearl Burge, Marguerite Dempsey, Loraine Ennis, Mary Haffner, Honore Langmack, Robert Smith, Elizabeth Yyant, Eleanor Youngkin, and Grace Loy.

Eighth Grade—The eighth grade observed Nebraska day March first with appropriate exercises. The following pupils have made rain gauges: Max Ballard, Scott Hough, Garland Bressler, Clarence Saunto and John Harbottle. The class decided that Clarence Saunto had the best one. The class completed their weather report for February and found February 23rd the coldest and the average for the month was 30 degrees. The class decided that Cecil Sparks had the neatest weather report. Tuesday's reading period was devoted to reports from Roosevelt's letters to his children. Helen Hancock, Marjorie Britnell and Geraldine Madison have completed their drills for Palmer Certificate.

HARRIETT BEAVERS.

Harriett Critchfield was born in the state of Ohio, May 5, 1858, and died at Joy, Nebraska, March 3, 1928, aged 89 years, 9 months, and 28 days.

Her parents moved from Ohio to Jackson County, Indiana, while she was still a small child. On May 3, 1866, she was married to George L. Robertson, at Brownstown, Indiana. To this union were born three children, all living, as follows: John A. Robertson, Joy, Nebraska; Mrs. O. E. Ott, Nashville, Tennessee; and Mrs. H. J. Worth, Bancroft, Nebraska; also thirty grandchildren and forty-six great-grandchildren.

On August 4, 1869, her husband, George L. Robertson, died, in May, 1872, at Freetown, Indiana, she was married to Jesse L. Dowden, from whom she was divorced on September 22, 1882.

On January 11, 1885, she was married to Samuel Beavers at Spraytown, Indiana; the same year they came to Holt County, Nebraska, and settled on a homestead sixteen miles north-east of O'Neill, residing there until 1900 when they moved to O'Neill where they lived until the death of Mr. Beavers on June 6, 1916, since that time Mrs. Beavers has made her home with her children but most of the time with her son, John A. Robertson, where she was at the time of her death.

"Grandma Beavers," as she was called by all the early settlers of this country, was always called on and always ready and willing to help in cases of sickness and trouble and everybody remembers her for her help and kindness in the pioneer days of this community. In early life she joined the Methodist church and was a faithful member until her death.

Funeral services were conducted by the Methodist minister, Rev. Guy W. Ballard, of O'Neill, from the residence of her son, and burial was in the cemetery at Joy. All her children were present at the funeral and six grandsons were her pallbearers.
