THE STATE BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT A GOOD ONE

Lincoln, March 10.—(Special)—The eighteenth annual Nebraska High-School Basketball Tournament, characterized by officials as the most successful yet held, passed into sport history with the playing of the final game in Class A Saturday night. Two thousand two hundred and fifty-nine players were registered Thursday, representing 262 schools. On the basis of their records this season and in previous tournaments and the number of students enrolled in high school these teams were divided into 17 classes by the executive committee.

The annual tournament, conducted under the joint auspices of the Nebraska High-School Athletic Association and the department of athletics of the University of Nebraska, begun in 1911 with 21 teams in one class. Because some limitation of size became necessary, only teams which had won 40 per cent of their games were admitted to competition last year; and this year the requirement was raised to 50 per cent.

With the exception of one court in the Y. M. C. A. all games were played on the courts of the mammoth new Coliseum of the University, where six games were in progress at one time. During the tournament the Coliseum was ablaze with the colorful sweaters of high-school athletics. From all parts of the state boys came to compete in what is probably the largest basketball competition in the world. A small army of officials was recruited—a hundred referees and umpires, special police for traffic control and information, floor managers, a committee for reception and entertainment, and miscellaneous assistants.

ST. MARY'S CARDINALS LOSE TO COMSTOCK

(By Arthur King '31 O'Neill.)
Lincoln, Nebraska, March 9, 1928. (Special) Saint Mary's lost to Comstock in their first game in Class M of the eighteenth annual tournament. Score 10-13. The Cardinals had a hard time to get used to the floor. "Ben" Clifford was off form the first part of the game but came back to make a perfect basket in the third quarter. It was a "Clifford Special."

One of those one armed tosses that never touch the hoop.

Beha starred in the game. In the first three seconds of play Bill made a basket and before the crowd stopped cheering he made another one. Pruss played a perfect game all the way through, although he made no points himself he made it possible for the other men to score. Kenney, McCarthy, Sullivan all played an equally good game, but "Phil" could not resist the temptation to give his six-foot opponent a shove or two which brought two personal fouls upon his head. The Comstock boys six-footers who were able to safely play over the Cardinals heads. Ben was closely guarded from the very first and did not have a good chance to show them what he could do.

Coach Phalin should be commended for his wonderful work with this team, although disappointed at the loss of the game he was proud of the way the boys took their defeat, and of the way they played when they adjusted themselves to the floor.

In the first three minutes of play Beha of O'Neill made two baskets. Both sides were a little too anxious, and the game was very slow, but along toward the end of the quarter Gatrú of Comstock made a nice basket. This seemed to wake them up and the game started in earnest. Clifford of the Cardinals was off form and most of the tries for the hoop were too low. In the second quarter McCarthy of O'Neill substituted for Sullivan. In the first few minutes of play a foul was called on Kenney of the Cardinals but Gilmore missed the basket. Gatrú made another nice toss and the game was tied. Gilmore fouled Beha and the free throw was made by him.

The third quarter all the men started off well and the plays were close. Meyers broke away and made two baskets. Clifford made a perfect throw for a basket from behind the foul lines. Gilmore fouled McCarthy but the free throw was missed. In the beginning of the fourth quarter Gatrú made another long basket, putting Comstock well in the lead. Clifford made a perfect shot for another basket and the game pepped up on both sides. Sullivan of O'Neill substituted for Kenney but the game ended soon after play started.

(By Arthur King '31 O'Neill.)
Lincoln, Nebraska, March 9, 1928. (Special)—O'Neill won their first game in Class F of the eighteenth annual Nebraska Basketball Tournament at Lincoln, by forfeit. O'Neill was suited up and on the floor at 7:30 this morning but Ragan failed to appear on time. They were allowed about twenty minutes and the game was then declared a forfeit to O'Neill by the officials.

SECOND ROUND.

(By Arthur King, '31, O'Neill, Neb.)
Lincoln, Neb., March 9.—Special. O'Neill High School lost to Shelton by a score of 12 to 17 in a hard fought game, their second scheduled game in Class M of the eighteenth annual basketball tournament at Lincoln.

Lorenz played a good game but he was off on his free throws, missing four chances to score. The opposing team was fast, and although they were not so good at locating the hoop they seemed always to have a man where the ball was.

Marvin Johnson made a neat shot for a perfect basket, and Hancock followed with a similar shot soon afterwards. The game started out slow. Both teams seemed to lack the pep that is needed for a good game. A foul was called on Schwisow of O'Neill and the free throw was made by Conroy of Shelton. This seemed to wake the boys up, and the game turned into a real fight on both sides, resulting in a great number of personal fouls on both sides. Three free throws were given to O'Donnell of O'Neill but he failed to find the hoop with the ball. Brady made another basket for Shelton just as the quarter ended.

In the beginning of the second quarter another by O'Neill and another by Shelton. This was the first point scored by O'Neill in the game. Lorenz sank a long shot near the end of the half. After the half the whole game leaned toward Shelton and the score stood 10 to 6 at the end of the third quarter. O'Neill picked up in the fourth quarter and tied the score, but Shelton broke away again raised their score to 17, by a number of free throws and a goal. O'Neill was only able to make two more points before the game ended. A foul was called on Shelton just as the bell rang but Lorenz failed to raise the O'Neill score the two points.

BRICK BATS.

Last fall a carnival arrived to cheer us for a week; it had a horse that climbed and dived, side show and circus freak. We had a lot of work to do, our duties were piled high; 'twould take all day to get clear through, no matter how we'd try. Just then we heard the ragtime band upon the village street; we gazed upon their costumes grand, and figured we could cheat. So to our work we madly plied, we worked both brawn and brow; the work we used to do with pride we finished up—and how! From afternoon till late that night the midway reaped our kale, and when we'd seen the last grand sight the eastern sky was pale. Next day we found to our dismay the world had gone askew; our hurried work near turned us gray, and nothing else would do, but that we must work on like sin for forty-seven days to clear the muddle we were in and straighten out the maze. It's fine to have a little fun, to take some time for play; but not until our work is done, and done the proper way.—Brick Smith.

THE thrifty man who saves his money may be a materilist, but without him the thriftless idealist would starve to death.

Get These Additional Spreader Advantages

Every user of a manure spreader readily admits that this equipment is one of the best investments any farmer can make, but remember this—there's a world of difference in manure spreaders—a difference in loading, in draft, in the work done, in the life, upkeep costs and the service they give.

JOHN DEERE SPREADER The Spreader with the Beater on the Axle

has these distinctive advantages—advantages over others that result in saving time, labor and money.
Easier on you. It is only 36 inches from the ground to the top of the box—from 6 to 10 inches lower than others—save about half the work of loading because the manure is in the box without the hard part of lifting necessary when loading other spreaders.
Easier on your horses. High drive wheels materially lighten the draft—from 4 to 8 inches higher than others. The manure on the endless apron is rolled back to the beater on 48 roller bearings. If you were going to move a ton weight the easiest way you wouldn't drag it—you would put rollers under this load and roll it, as on the John Deere.
Does better work. It isn't necessary to pile the John Deere Spreader with manure high in the center to get on a load; consequently, the spread is even the entire width. Another point, the beater on the John Deere is low to the ground—manure is not thrown high in the air for side winds to catch it and cause drifting.
The revolving rake, a patented feature, imbeds its teeth into the manure and revolves with the load—this permits the beater teeth to tear the manure apart. No bunching—no uneven spreading.
Lasts longer. It has only about half the parts ordinarily required.
No clutches—no chains—no adjustments to make. All of the main working parts are on the axle where they can't get out of line to cause extra wear, binding and breakage. The upkeep costs are extremely low and the service it gives is much longer.
All of these advantages are evident when comparisons are made.

Come in and see the John Deere on our floor ready for your inspection.
