The O'Neill High School Admitted To North Central

O'Neill High School received notification of having been accepted as a member of the North Central Association of Colleege and Secondary Schools. Application for membership was made last spring and was acted upon by the Association last week. As a member of the Association the O'Neill High School must observe certain regulations and standards as prescribed by the North Central Association, such as modern, well equipped and sanitary school buildings, adequate library and laboratory facilities, higher standards of scholarship, and raises the qualifications of teachers. Students who graduate from a North Central Association High School may enter any college or university of the North Central Association without entrance examinations.

The O'Neill Board of Education should be commended for taking this forward step, placing our schools among the foremost schools of Nebraska. The North Central Membership includes all of the larger cities of Nebraska, Northern Nebraska, at present, has few schools who maintain the standards required for membership in the North Central Association.

Mrs. T. M. Harrington has recovered from a nine weeks' siege of the flu and is again able to do her household work.

Mrs. Thomas Quinn returned home Monday from a few days spent with her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Ragan and family at Creighton.

Mrs. Addie Bowden was granted a divorce from Elvin E. Bowden the first of the week. She was given the custody of the two children.

Miss Marjorie Dickson and Miss Ruth Barnard are assisting in the office of the Interstate Power Company taking care of some extra work.

Ralph Phillips, of Star, drove to Grand Island, last Friday, returning home Saturday with Mrs. Phillips who has been receiving treatment in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cross came over from Creighton Sunday for a visit with the Carl Oppen family. Mrs. Cross remained for a longer visit with her parents.

Mrs. J. H. Meredith, Dr. Margaret Frost and Miss Edith Sexsmith accompanied Mrs. H. W. Herford and sister, Mrs. George Henry to Omaha last Friday. They returned home the first of the week.

T. F. Birmingham and Attorney L. C. Chapman enjoyed the experience of spending several hours extracting their car from a ditch Wednesday afternoon while enroute to the Spangler sale northeast of O'Neill. Due to the "greasy" roads the car skidded from the road and rested against the embankment for a few hours while the occupants rounded up "old dober" plus numerous neighbors, fence posts, etc. The party arrived home for supper a little chilly but without injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cowperthwaite returned home last Friday evening from a four months sojourn in the vicinity of Tampa, Florida. Art says that they had a nice visit with Lawrence Malone, who is a prominent attorney at Bradenton, Florida, and a couple of nice visits with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Adams, former O'Neill residents, now at Bradley Junction, Florida, where Mr. Adams is in the employ of the Seaboard Air Line Railway. Mr. Cowperthwaite brought home a number of grape fruit and oranges picked from Mr. Adams' orchard which Art says, consists of ten acres of the finest trees in Florida. Mr. Adams broke up the ground about fourteen years ago and set out the orchard himself; he takes care of the trees and has a personal pride in making the grove the best in the southland. The orchard is located near Haynes City, which is about twenty-five miles from Bradley Junction. There are two residences on the ten acres, one is occupied by a sister, while a tenant resides in the other. Mr. and Mrs. Adams still have an interest in O'Neill and the old-times as will be noticed by another article elsewhere in this issue, written by Mr. Adams. The grape fruit and oranges brought from Mr. Adams' orchards may be seen at the O'Neill National bank where Mr. Cowperthwaite has left them.

Gerald Schultz is a new employee in the service department of the Interstate Power Company office in this city.

The first division of the Ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a rummage sale in the near future. Watch for place and date.

The Interstate Power Company connected Burke, South Dakota, to the high line last week. Lynch, Nebraska, will be connected up this week.

Allen B. Barber, formerly of this city, who is now traveling for the Pioneer Paint & Glass Company, was shaking hands with O'Neill friends today.

Why not let the ladies of the first division of the Presbyterian church bake that cake for you? Phone the captain No. 234 and she will place your order.

Walter Stein went to South Bend, Indiana, Wednesday, and will drive home a new Studebaker hearse for the O. F. Biglin furniture and undertaking establishment.

James Connolly was in O'Neill last Friday for the first time for several weeks. Along about Christmas time Mr. Connolly suffered a broken blood vessel in the right leg which has confined him to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zimmerman and son, Billie, drove up from Hastings, Nebraska, last Saturday and are spending the week with O'Neill relatives.

The Combination Sale held at the John L. Quig farm south of the North Western depot last Saturday was a success. Everything sold high; a large crowd was present.

Frank Biglin returned home last Friday from Rochester, Minnesota, where he submitted to an operation some time ago for goitre. Frank is looking fine and is getting fat.

Ernst Wells, a construction engineer for the Interstate Power Company has been headquartered in O'Neill for the past week and has been inspecting the company's properties in this vicinity.

Master Lane Griffin is carrying his left arm in a sling all because his brother, Billie, tumbled him up in the air and failed to catch him when he came down. One bone in the left arm was fractured.

Rev. and Mrs. Guy W. Ballard and son Max, returned home Saturday from Iowa Falls Iowa. They drove home a new Standard "6" Buick which they purchased in Omaha through A. Marcellus of this city.
