ELEANOR CHARLOTTE GILLESPIE

Eleanor Charlotte, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Gillespie of this city, passed away at the family home at 9:45 o'clock Tuesday evening. Death was caused from inflammation of the brain as a result of influenza. Miss Eleanor had not been feeling well for several weeks but was not confined to her bed for any length of time until Thursday of last week when the symptoms of the fatal disease began to appear.

Eleanor was born in O'Neill, Nebraska, April 9, 1904, and grew to womanhood in this city; she was graduated from the O'Neill public schools in May 1925. She was a young lady with a wide circle of friends, who will be deeply grieved to learn that she has been called in death. A pall of sadness and sorrow spreads over the entire community when death enters a home and takes a loved one in the bloom of young womanhood and deep expressions of sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

The deceased leaves, besides her parents, a brother, Bennett, and a sister, Marjorie, her grandmother, Mrs. B. S. Gillespie, and a host of dear friends, to mourn her early departure.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the Methodist church, and will be conducted by Rev. Othel A. Fortune, pastor.

Protect Your Investment in Your Model T Ford

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer.

So that you may get the greatest use over the longest period of time at the lowest cost, we suggest that you take your Model T Ford to the nearest Ford dealer and have him give you an estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure may enable you to maintain or increase the value of the car and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

No matter where you live you can get these Ford parts at the same low prices as formerly and know they are made in the same way and of the same materials as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Labor cost is reasonable and a standard rate is charged for each operation so that you may know in advance exactly how much the complete job will cost.
