O'NEILL DEFEATS ROYAL IN FAST GAME SUNDAY

O'Neill won the sixth consecutive base ball game of the season here last Sunday when they defeated the fast Royal team 8 to 0.

O'Neill took advantage of the poor fielding by the Royal team in the early part of the game and tucked away enough scores to win the game by a safe margin should the Royal start to score.

Hank Martin played well in the field for the local team while Harrington recovered a long fly in deep center, which shut out Royal's only hope of scoring, the bases being full at the time.

Honeycutt held Royal helpless for the greater part of the game and turned in seven strikeouts.

O'Neill will play the Cheighton team at Creighton next Sunday.

Batteries: O'Neill, Honeycutt and Schollmeyer; Royal, Boham and Hamilton.

BAZELMAN—REED

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Patrick's church in this city on Thursday, morning of last week when Mr. Joseph Bazelman of this city and Miss Winifred Reed, of Orchard, were united in marriage by Rev. M. J. Brady.

Miss Tomjack, of Ewing, was bride's maid and Francis Bazelman, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony the bridal party left in autos for the home of the bride's parents at Orchard, Nebraska, where they were served with a sumptuous wedding dinner and where they spent the afternoon.

Following a short honeymoon in the eastern part of the state the happy couple will return to O'Neill where they will make their home.

The bride is a stranger to most people in O'Neill but she came to us with the best of recommendations by the people of Orchard where she has grown to womanhood.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bazelman, of this city and is an energetic, hard working young man with excellent qualities.

The many friends of the newly weds are wishing them unlimited joy.

LOCAL NEWS.

Jim Connelly is ill at his home north of the city.

A light rain fell over this part of the county Monday.

J. F. O'Donnell and Attorney M. F. Harrington were in Norfolk Wednesday.

J. B. Mellor has a new Fordor sedan on his display room floor this week.

M. F. Kirwin went to Grand Island last Sunday for a visit with his family.

Walt Stein and wife went up to Cherry county Wednesday on a fishing trip.

Orlin Kearns, of Rushville, enroute to Page, visited at the Templeton home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Chapman and Miss Grace Wessley were visiting in Atkinson Sunday.

Dr. Hugh Lucie, of Cheyenne, Wyoming, was a guest at the R. R. Dickson home last week.

Miss Mariam Gilligan left Wednesday morning for Omaha, where she will be joined by Miss Gertrude Harte and together they will go to California, where they will be brides maids for Miss Margaret Wattles, a sorority sister at the State University.

Bernard Quinn and Hugh McManus, driving the Fred Lowrey Ford sedan and a light truck collided on the highway east of O'Neill early Monday morning. The young men had been to Creighton and were returning home when the accident happened. The sedan was almost a total wreck. No one was injured.

Mrs. O. F. Biglin and her daughters, Irenaia and Genevieve, entertained at a one o'clock luncheon at their home, followed by bridge, Wednesday afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Mary Hennessy, of Albany, New York, Mrs. James O'Leary, of Waterbury, Connecticut and Miss Nell O'Donnell, of Boston, Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rodenwald arrived in O'Neill early last week from their home at Corvallis, Oregon, where Mr. Rodenwald is a member of the faculty of the agricultural college. They expect to go to points in Iowa from here and then to Chicago. Mr. Rodenwald has been granted a year's vacation and he expects to travel visiting other colleges most of the time.

Robert Clouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Clouse whose life was threatened by lockjaw on account of his having stepped on a nail, is showing improvement after tetanus anti-toxin rushed here from Norfolk, was administered. The boy stepped on the nail Tuesday of last week but his condition did not become alarming until Saturday. Through the kindness of Postmaster Grady of O'Neill the medicine was delivered to a messenger from here at 5:30 a. m.

Last Thursday night the O'Neill-Bonesteel Bus and a truck driven by Van Estes, of Bassett, collided on Highway No. 20 about 200 yards south of the Atkinson corner. Both cars were slightly damaged but no one was injured. Mrs. E. J. Velder was driving the bus and, according to the passengers, averted a very serious accident by the efficient handling of the car both before and after the crash. The Van Estes truck is reported to have had but one light.

SILAS WARREN KELLY.

Silas Warren Kelly was born near Hazel Dell, Illinois, on August 27, 1861, and died at his home in Atkinson Sunday evening, June 17, 1928, aged 67 years and 10 months. He was the youngest son of Silas Warren and Mary Jane Kelly. His boyhood days were spent on the farm at his home, where he attended the country schools, and later was a graduate of Central College at Danville, Indiana.

In 1886 he came to Nebraska and with a colony of Illinois relatives and friends helped lay out and establish the little town of Champion, Chase County, Nebraska. Forty-one years ago, in 1887, Mr. Kelly and Stanley Shoemaker established in this little town a frontier weekly newspaper The Chase County Champion. This was the beginning of his 41 years of public service as a country newspaper editor, a life work that he thoroughly loved.

January 24, 1891, Maude Isabelle Todd became his bride at Superior, Nebraska, and at Champion their first two children were born, Truby Charlotte and Eric Todd. Here the family lived until 1894 when they went to Stuttgart, Arkansas, where for three years they helped settle up another frontier territory.

The Kelly family came back to Nebraska in 1897 and moved to Wisner, Cuming county, where Mr. Kelly exchanged a tree claim for a newspaper plant and established the Wisner Free Press. At this place the other two children, Ralph John and Tabor Warren were born.

Mr. Kelly came to Atkinson in May, 1914, and purchased The Atkinson Graphic, which paper he edited until his death. During the World War with the advice and consent of the President of the United States, Mr. Kelly was commissioned Chairman of Four Minute Men for this community to work during the War in conjunction with the national committee on public information. Thus he continued in his family an unbroken war record of service to our country from the time of its declaration of independence to the present day. His great grandfather, Lawrence Kelly, was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. His grandfather, David Kelly served in the War of 1812. At the outbreak of the Civil War his father organized and was captain of Company F, 59th Regiment, Illinois Volunteers, and his oldest brother, John was a lieutenant in the same company. They left their home for service just a few weeks before Silas Warren was born. Another brother, James C. Kelly, was a cavalryman in the Civil War. A number of Mr. Kelly's cousins fought in the Spanish-American War, and his son, Eric Todd, was commissioned during the World War.

S. W. Kelly is survived by his wife, Maude Isabelle; four children, Mrs. Truby Kirsch, of Lincoln, Eric Todd
