From 70 to 80 O'Neill children were on hand Sunday to gladden the hearts of Lion's club members by participating in the first kids' fish day.

Before the afternoon was over, a total of 309 fish were taken from the Frouty pond 20 miles north of O'Neill, 283 bluegills and 26 bass. Lion's members gave 336 free bottles of pop to the children.

George Winkler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Winkler — a Black Finn extraordinary won two of the O'Neill merchants' prizes for catching the first fish of the afternoon and the most fish — 35 bluegills and 6 bass.

Dick Larsen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larsen of O'Neill caught the biggest fish, an 8 1/2 inch bass.

Jim Grady, the son of Mr. and Mrs. "Ben" Grady caught the second biggest fish and the biggest bluegill, at 7 1/2 inches.

Phillip Gildersleeve, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Gildersleeve and Jerry Oetter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Oetter caught the second and third most fish respectively.

Jim Champion, Lions Club chairman of the day, said he hoped to see the event sponsored by the Lions annually. The turnout was far better than anticipated.

Prizes were awarded by Coyne Hardware, Western Auto, Ben Franklin, the Gambles and the Lee stores.

Don Meyer of Meyer's Midwest Furniture and Frank Flala, a farmer, donated trucks.

Lions members who helped bait hooks, caught grasshoppers and helped in other ways in addition to the chairman were Milton Baack, "Bud" Miller, Joe Olenick and Joe Stutz.
