Red Camp Thrills Group With Jazz Members of the O'Neill Concert association were treated to an unusual performance Sunday night at the high school auditorium when Red Camp, jazz pianist, played for the second of the three concerts held in O'Neill this season. Camp gave a concert of contrasts in ragtime and impressionistic jazz in melodies familiar to all. The program was divided into four parts. Camp opened the concert with a medley of early jazz, barrelhouse jazz, rag and jazz. The second part of the program was devoted to the blues in slow, medium, fast and very fast tempos. Dixieland jazz comprised the third part of the concert and Camp ended the concert with "Jazz Here and Now", a group of tunes that have lived through the years. The piano perfectionist played two encores—Stardust and St. Louis Blues. The final O'Neill concert will be given April 13 and will feature Zvi Zeitlin, a violinist.
