Last week's News

Time for our weekly chat, but it seems there's not much to talk about but the weather. Most everyone says it's been too cold to make news. Feeding and caring for stock in sub-zero weather, with quite a little snow on the ground, keeps the majority of folks busy.

As a good reminder of that March 7 storm of a few years back, Tuesday, March 8 was ushered in on the wings of a howling snow storm of near-blizzard proportions at times and temperatures from 20-25 during the day. One slightly different angle, this storm was coming from the south-east rather than north. Could it be that this is Old Man Winter's final fling, before stepping out of the picture to make way for Spring?

Mrs. Albert Widfeldt, Norma and Jimmy went to Spencer on Saturday and called at the Roy Forbes home. Upon arriving there, they found the family members busily engaged in household duties in the absence of the mother.
