

Ownership of the Page elevator passed into the hands of John Dienes of Orchard last fall. During the winter workmen repaired the building and gave it a complete coverage with aluminum siding. Tuesday work was completed on the new 50 by 140 ft. grain storage bin (shown above) having a capacity of 100,000 bushels. The original elevator was built in 1905 by Thomas Wade, whose son operated it in 1909. In 1928 Wallace French operated it for the Farmer's Union. A. G. Braddock took over as manager in 1939. Other owners have been Albert Ellis, Ed Hubbard, Jack Weber, Dave Deaver, Don McKamy, Charles Sorenson and the Meuret Grain Co. Now the elevator will again be open for competitive business.
