Summer is about half gone and we still are looking for our jackets when evening comes but it is chilly. It seems as though they work that much harder pestering humanity.

The week of July 28 to August 7 has been set aside by the poultry industry as Midsummer Turkey Time.

Not many years back turkey was considered a luxury and served only at Thanksgiving and Christmas. At the present time turkey has become a very versatile meat. Many ways have been found to fix and serve turkey. It also has many nutritional merits in a good summer diet.

When buying turkey choose a large one to roast. Many appetizing dishes can be made from the leftover or cold turkey, such as TURKEY HASH which is suitable for a summertime brunch party or the second meal from your roast turkey.

TURKEY HASH
4 cups (quart) large cubes cooked turkey
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups (1 large bunch) chopped green onions
1 cup diced celery
2 cups chopped (2) green peppers
1 can (4 ounces) button mushrooms, with juice
1/3 cup flour
1 tablespoon curry powder
2 teaspoons sweet basil
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon ground pepper
2 cups broth
1/2 cup sweet vermouth (or milk)
1/4 cup silvered, salted almonds

Saute turkey in butter or margarine until thoroughly heated. Add onions, celery, and green peppers and saute until vegetables are barely soft, but not browned. Add mushrooms, mushroom juice, and flour blended with the seasonings. Stir until flour has been absorbed. Add broth all at once and cook until uniformly thickened, stirring constantly, but gently. Add vermouth (or milk) and simmer several minutes, until very hot, sprinkle almonds over top. Makes 8 servings.

The following are a few Do's and Don'ts with regards to the handling of meats, whether it be winter or summer.

1. Don't ever stuff poultry ahead of time, in any kind of weather. Always prepare dressing and stuff the bird just before putting it in the oven.

2. Do remove all leftover stuffing from roasted meats as quickly as possible. Refrigerate all meats, gravies, stuffing immediately. Use leftovers in a day or two, unless they have been properly wrapped and frozen.

3. Do heat leftovers thoroughly. Broth and gravy should be brought to a full, rolling boil and allowed to boil several minutes; heat stuffing thoroughly.

4. Don't permit food to stand in a warm kitchen. If not served at once refrigerate. Reheat before serving if necessary.

5. Do speed the cooling of large quantities by refrigerating quickly in shallow container (s).

If you wish any special recipe or would like to pass along an interesting idea write to Mrs. Sarah Michaels, Inman, Nebraska and it will be included in this column.

What makes America Great?

(Second in a Series on the Declaration of Independence)

"we hold these truths to be self-evident..."

Before our Founding Fathers could lay down the principles on which our form of government is based, they had to resolve the most basic question of all.

They had to decide whether or not there is a God. For if there is no God, then government is God and all of the despots and tyrants of history were right in denying the rights of individuals. But if there is a God Who created man, then the rights of man come from God and government can neither give nor take away those rights.

So, the Founding Fathers first stated the ultimate fact "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created..."

They acknowledged the existence of a Creator of man... One from whom man derives his very being. They stated their belief in God Who is the Omnipotent Government, more powerful than any man-made system.

The dignity of man as a creature of God was first and foremost in the minds of the Founding Fathers, and on this principle they established the roots of American government.
