

Chicken or Turkey Pie

Use your favorite recipe. Place mixture into casserole or oblong dish. Cover dish with rich pastry, pressing it firmly to edges—or use rich biscuit dough, cut in rounds.

Chicken or turkey pie may be baked before freezing, or frozen with unbaked topping. If baked first, cool before wrapping.

Store no longer than four months. Do not thaw before reheating. Remove aluminum foil or polyethylene wrapping and heat in 350 degree oven for about an hour; 400 degrees if pastry has unbaked topping.

Breads, Pancakes and Waffles

These breads are most satisfactory for freezing — yeast white and whole wheat, yeast rolls, baking powder nut bread and steamed brown bread. All but the brown bread are baked before freezing. Steam that. All should be cooled to room temperatures before freezing.

Pancakes and waffles re-heat easily for a quick breakfast. Small families that like home-made bread will find it handy to bake several, and freeze all but one for use.

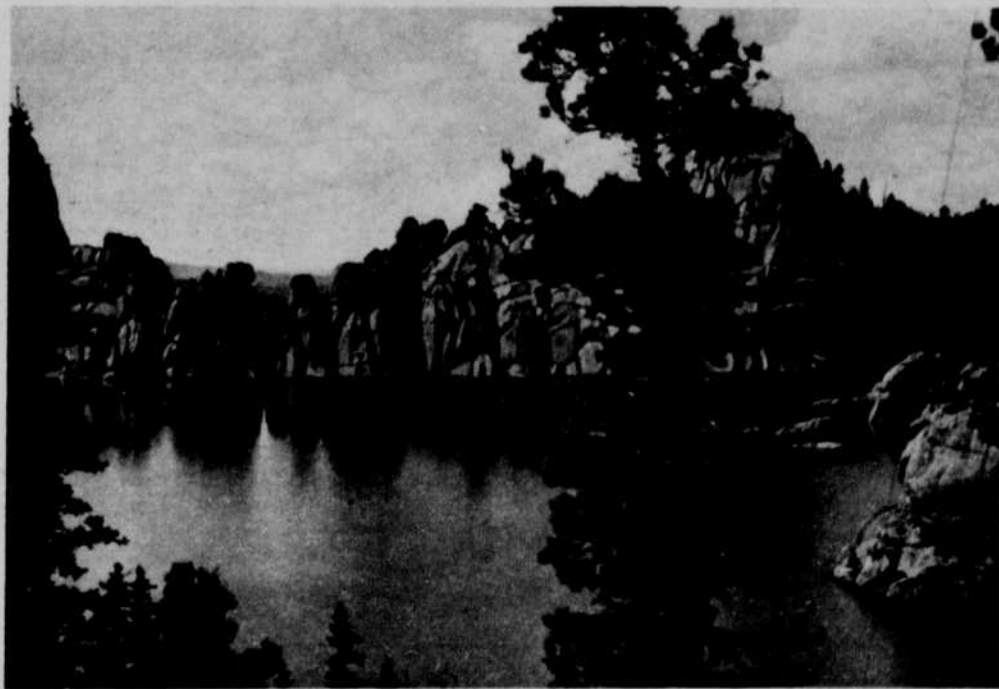

Ready-cooked Soups and Vegetables

Vegetable, chicken, lentil and other dried legume soups are excellent when frozen. When making any of these which require long, slow cooking, make an extra amount and freeze the extra portion. Cool before freezing. Clear broths freeze satisfactorily but do not add noodles or rice. Add these when reheating. You can pour them when cold into ice cube trays, freeze and then package in polyethylene bags. Store up to four months.
