Two miles south of Atkinson on highway 12 the passerby is greeted by this eye catching sign. No. 11 PONY FARM BARNES KIDS. To adults it brings a wish they could revert to the jeans and pony tail age. To young would-be cowboys it is Cloud nine.

The farm is a recent venture begun a little over two years ago. The KIDS of the sign are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Barnes of Atkinson. Ronnie who is 13, Barbara 12, Jerry 11, Beverly 9, and Kenny (definitely the junior member) who is half past 2. The sponsor and adviser of the project is their interested grandfather, Leven Parsons, a retired rancher who lives next door to the corporation.
The venture was triggered a couple of years back when a new type of motor car was being promoted by giving away a pony to the child who submitted the best name. Jerry Barnes was lucky. Skeeter became a new member of an admiring family.
"The kids were so interested," Mr. Parsons said. "That it seemed like a good idea to start them in business for themselves." The kids enthusiastically agreed. A suitable place was obtained, ten shetlands purchased, and they were in business.
The thing mushroomed. New ponies were added. Colts made their appearance. A beautiful sorrel stud bearing the impressive name Maple City's Golden Sunlight was added to the menage to the tune of $500 cash on the barrel head. The kids were catching on fast. They learned the selling as well as the buying end of the operation.
"We break and train the ponies after they are a year old," says eleven year old Jerry. He can quote you pedigrees, names, prices and give you a rundown of the success of the operation in nothing flat. About 25 head have been sold to date. The horses bringing from $65 to $135. The mares $230 to $700.
It is hard to say who has benefited most from the experiment, the kids, who are learning invaluable lessons to be used in the future or a benevolent grandfather who is getting his kicks out of the present.

A Poem From Mrs. Eby...
Character Building— Beautiful thoughts make beautiful lives: For every word and deed lies in the thought that prompted it, as flowers lie in the seed.
Back of each action lay the thought we nourished till it grew into a word, or into a deed that marked our life work through. Gracious words and kindly ways, deeds that are high and true; Slanderous words and hasty words are deeds we bitterly rue. The garden of life it beareth well. It will repay our care.
But the blossom must always and ever be like the seed we are planting there.
On things that are pure and of good report, our hearts must dwell.
If we would see life's garden full of blossoms that please us well. For beautiful thoughts make beautiful lives.
And every word and deed lies in the thought that prompted it, As a flower lies in the seed. For the heart is a garden where thought flowers grow. The thoughts that we think are the seeds that we sow.
Each kind loving thought bears a kind loving deed, While a thought that is selfish is just like a weed.
We must watch what we think the livelong day, And pull up the weed thoughts and throw them away, And plant loving seed thoughts so thick in a row, That there'll be no room for weed thoughts to grow.
