Federal Land Bank Officials At Conference

Six representatives of the Federal Land Bank association, O'Neill, returned home Friday from a conference of Land Bank directors and managers at North Platte. Attending were Frank C. Kruntorad, Ewing, president; Wilbur L. Moon, Stuart, vice president; E. J. Revell, O'Neill, and Don Kehn, Butte, directors; Ed Verzal, assistant manager, and Lyle P. Dierks, manager.

Land Bank President Thomas A. Maxwell Jr., gave a report at the conference, stating, "The expanded use of credit by farmers and ranchers shows real confidence in the future. Modern farmers have learned what progressive business firms have long known—money is a tool of good management." "The expanded use of credit is evidenced by the fact that Land Bank loans outstanding passed the $400 million mark in August, an all-time high. At the same time the delinquency on loan repayments was near the all-time low," said Mr. Kruntorad.
