—Thanksgiving Day—
Thanksgiving Day, will soon be here and thankful we should be. Not only then, but all the year, as we God's bounty see. This whole big world He gave to man and all that's in it, too. If we would carry out His plan, His will on earth to do.

And see that each one has his share of toil and products, too. And cease his fighting here and there, as brothers ought to do. He gives the sunshine and the rain which makes the food to grow. Just how or why we can't explain, why God should love us so.

When we so seldom think of Him and praise Him not at all. When plenty makes our vision dim, His judgement then must fall. Let's praise Him for His wondrous grace, His love and mercy, too, and give to Christ His rightful place to dwell in me and you.

Because He knocked at our heart's door when we were lost and sad and poor. Sin sick and tired, weary and sore and brought us peace from heaven's store. For this and Oh! so very much more, Father, we thank Thee.
