

Brenda Colman Weds Russell J. Brandts In Catholic Rite at O'Neill

Miss Brenda Colman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Colman Jr., Inman, became the bride of A. J. Russell J. Brandts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Brandts, Omaha, at a 10:30 a.m. nuptial mass at St. Patrick's church in O'Neill.

Msgr. O'Sullivan officiated at the double ring ceremony. Sister Flores was in charge of the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chiffon taffeta and alencon lace. The basque bodice featured a beautiful portrait neckline and long fitted sleeves. The front of the bodice was overlaid with pearls and opalescent sequins. The aisle wide skirt was floor length in front. The rushing band of taffeta from either side of the front at the hip line encircled the gown highline to end in a sash at the back. Two handmade taffeta roses trimmed the band and the front of the gown. Her bouffant veil fell in a circular sweep from a crown of aurora crystals and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses. BERNICE Colman, Omaha, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Boyd Hayden, Omaha, sister of the groom and DeEtta Cornford, Omaha, friend of the bride. The attendants were attired in beautiful royal blue satin dresses, with white fur hats, and carried white muffs, encircled with blue pom-poms.

Rudy and Phil Mossman, Tekamah, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ringbearer.

Vincent Brandts, Omaha, brother of the groom, was best man, ushers were Boyd Hayden, Omaha, Ron Janzing, Atlantic, Ia., and Randy Colman, Inman, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise silk dress with white accessories and the groom's mother wore a beige lace dress. Their corsages were of white pom-poms.

Following the ceremony, a brunch was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, uncle and aunt of the bride, and a reception was held in the O'Neill Legion club.

The bride is a graduate of Inman High School and the groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School in Omaha.

EWING — Donna Wright was announced the winner of the Ewing high school in the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She received the highest score in the examination on homemaking knowledge and aptitude tests taken by the senior girls in December. She becomes eligible now along with winners in other state high schools for the title State Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Winona Petersen, Robert Lee Exchange Vows

ORCHARD — The Zion Lutheran church at Albion was the scene for the January wedding of Miss Winona Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Peterson, Albion, and Robert C. Lee, Norfolk, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, Orchard.

The Rev. C. E. Schaff officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m.

The bride wore a floor length gown of peau-de-soie with chapel train. A slim bodice featured a portrait neckline with medallions outlined in sequins and tiny seed pearls. Long sleeves to the wrists. The bouffant skirt also featured medallions. Her veil of English illusion was held in place by a regal crown of lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Miss Bertha Petersen, Albion, served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Faye Jochens, Pierce. They wore blue velvet sheaths with overskirts of peau-de-soie featuring velvet bands at the waist centered with front bows. The dresses had three-quarter length sleeves and portrait necklines coming to a "V" in back. Their headpieces of peau-de-soie featured bows with small veils. They carried nosegays of white pom-poms.

Best man was Wilmer Young, Wayne, and groomsmen was Merlin Raabe, Hadar. Dewey Cook, Emporia, Kan., and Bill Willers, Hoskins, ushers, and Julie Cook, Emporia, Kan., and Steven Lee, Omaha, were flower girl and ring bearer, respec-

Donna Mosel Weds Glen Beman At Clearwater

CLEARWATER — Miss Donna Mosel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mosel, Clearwater, and Glen Beman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beman, Valentine, were united in marriage January 14 at 2:30 p.m. in the Concordia Lutheran church at Clearwater.

Performing the double ring ceremony was the Rev. D. L. Braunsreuther. Mrs. Art Ahlers was vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Lowell Herley, organist.

A chapel length gown of silk organza was worn by the bride. It was styled with long, tapered sleeves, lace bodice and a Sabrina neckline accented with encrusted crystals and pearls. The bouffant skirt was enhanced with lace appliques. She carried a white Bible centred with an arrangement of white roses.

Miss Patty Mosel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Esabella Beman, Valentine, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Their blue gowns featured nylon sheer skirts, velvet midriffs and scalloped velvet jackets.

Charles Somway, Hot Springs, S. D., served as best man. Groomsman was Donald Ormesher, Valentine. Ushering were Donald Mosel, brother of the bride, and Ronald Andrus, Valentine.

Marcia Mosel, Turner, Mo., was flower girl and Timmy Mosel, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Following the reception the couple left on a brief wedding trip and are now residing in Valentine where the bridegroom, a graduate of Valentine high school, is employed as a salesman at the Clements Furniture company. The bride, a graduate of Neligh high school, and Commercial Extension school, Omaha, is employed by the Nebraska State Bank of Valentine.

A Poem From Mrs. Eby . . .

—THE STORM—
All day the storm has swooped and roared in fury round about. It's blinding gusts like troops advanced with fearless houl and shout. White drifts piled high, the sun was hid. The pine trees wroldly moan. The wind wailed on with ceaseless grief, in its despairing tone. It pushes at the close-shut door, with frosty touch and chill, and baffled rushes on its way its fury unquenched still. But let it rage, within the house we're sheltered safe and warm, no icy blast can touch us here, no blinding gale can harm; Here's cheerful light and glowing warmth and peace and love within. Here's harbor safe — a refuge sure amidst the storm's wild din. So in the raging storms of life, when cruel waves dash high, when icy waves and bitter gales so pitiless sweep by: When Satan rages at the door, temptations fierce assail, we have a refuge, safe and sure, from sins destroying gale. For Jesus fastens up the door and shields us in His arms, There's peace and joy, security from everything that harms. How wonderful to feel the peace and joy when tempests rave. To know the wall's impregnable to every wind and wave, to feel the fire, the Spirit's glow, and through the darkest night to have our pathway fully lit, by our Lord's blessed light. Roar on, winds of adversity, and Satan howl and rave, my fortress is impregnable my Lord, mighty to save! (Eva Deake Landis)

Lois K. Nelson, Sam A. Seikaly Exchange Vows

Candelabra and bouquets of white gladioli, holly and mistletoe decorated the altar at the First Methodist church in Bilozi, Miss., for the December 23 wedding of Miss Lois K. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Esty Nelson, O'Neill, and A. J. Sam A. Seikaly, Glens Falls, N.Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Seikaly, Amman, Jordan.

The Rev. Mr. Whaley performed the double ring ceremony at 10 a.m. in the presence of 30 guests. Traditional wedding music was played.

The bride was attired in a white velvet dress, made by her mother. The princess line bodice fell into a flowing full length skirt and featured long close-fitting sleeves and a scoop neckline. A fall train of white lace was gathered and caught at the neckline. Seed pearls highlighted her coronet crown to which was attached a bouffant veil of English illusion. She carried a short cascade of featured white carnations and holly.

Miss Ilene Nelson was maid of honor at her sister's wedding. She wore a red velvet sheath dress featuring a scoop neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a full overskirt of matching red velvet. She carried a white mull with white carnations and holly. A white feathered hat completed the ensemble. Another sister, Miss Connie Nelson, was flower girl and she wore a red velvet dress and carried a white mull. Serving as best man was Grant D. Shape, Hamar, Ida. Ted Halverson, California, and Daniel Shaffer, Philadelphia, Penn., were ushers.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents gave a reception in the church social room. Among the guests present was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Nina Rust, Chadron.

The bride is a graduate of O'Neill high school and the Norfolk Beauty school. Prior to her marriage she was employed as a cosmetologist at the Butte Beauty school.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Glens Falls senior high school and is presently serving with the United States Air Force as an Aircraft Navigational equipment repairman.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the couple is residing at 502 Seal Avenue, Bilozi, Miss.
