Report from Washington By Congressman Dave Martin

Fourth District, Nebraska

Walter Reuther charges that wages should rise faster than productivity in order to stimulate a lagging economy. He calls for new wage contracts to be based on larger increases in pay. This is in direct conflict with the President's announced basis for new wage settlements - that wage increases should be based on increases in productivity capacity. Reuther is head of the United Automobile Workers, which has a complete monopoly in the field of labor in the manufacture of cars, trucks and farm machinery. This pronouncement again strates the need for the passage of my bill to amend the Sherman Antitrust law and prohibit monopolies in the field of labor, the same as it applies to industry.

You people in agriculture know how you have been squeezed by the rising cost of the things you buy. Your net farm income has gradually been decreasing over the years because your costs of operation have risen, while your gross income from sales has remained constant. In the House Committee on Education and Labor, of which I am a member, we have many bills under consideration which would increase labor costs and contribute further to this cost increase. Legislation has been proposed which would increase and control the wages which our farmers pay for help on the farm. Washington wants to put our entire economy in a strait jacket, with the bureaucrats in Washington telling you what you can and cannot do.

Last week the House approved the committee bill to set up a communications satellite system on a combination private and public basis. Companies with know-how in the communications field (such as our telephone companies) would own one-half of this new company, and the public would own the other half. This is a compromise worked out between the group favoring all private ownership and the group favoring all public ownership. Through this communications satellite system, it was stated that television programs could be

We are ahead of the Soviet Union in this field, and it could be the key to important developments for us in future years. The House Agriculture Committee will soon begin hearings on legislation dealing with domestic sugar production. As you know, I have spoken on this subject for the past two years, because I feel that long-term legislation must be enacted which would allow both the producers and processors of sugar beets to plan intelligently over the years. I have also strongly advocated that domestic allotments of sugar beet production should be increased. Sugar beets have been our most profitable crop in Nebraska during the last few years. Beets are raised on irrigated land which, of course, would otherwise be in corn production - a crop already in over-supply. Thus, sugar beets year which will allow increased acreage of beets in Nebraska and the establishment of new sugar processing plants. The 1963 Agriculture bill should come to the Floor of the House this month. Also, the bill which will give the President the power to reduce tariffs should come out of the Ways and Means Committee this month. These are very important bills. Visitors from the District: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Horner, Atkinson.
