

Renee Hoffman Weds Donald R. McKenny In Catholic Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Renee Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoffman of Brunswick, to Donald R. McKenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Harding of O'Neill, was solemnized September 1st at 9 o'clock a.m. in St. Ignatius Catholic church with the Rev. Francis P. Kenny of Plainview officiating at the nuptial mass.

Arrangements of white and persimmon colored gladioli and greenery stood at both sides of the high altar.

Arne Sorensen, Neligh, played organ music preceding and during the ceremony. Naomi Russell, Neligh, sang "Ave Maria", "Ave Verum", "Panis Angelicus" and "The Wedding Prayer", accompanied by Mr. Sorensen.

Mass servers were Greg Hoffman of Clearwater, cousin of the bride, and Dick Janda of Ord, cousin of the bridegroom. Carmen Meusch, Lincoln, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Barbara Livingston, Council Bluffs, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Pamela Hoffman, Brunswick, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The dresses of attendants were of persimmon bridal satin. Peek-aboo front shoulder slots fell into a shaped V neckline, highlighted by a self-bowed rose. The short sleeved fitted bodice, with a front midriff, controlled the full bell shaped skirt. Their headpieces were persimmon in color and resembled the bride's veil in styling. They carried cascade arrangements of white and persimmon carnations.

Frank McKenny, O'Neill, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Jim Hoffman, Brunswick, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushers were Gary Addison, Stuart and Rodney Elkins, Wayne.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, appeared in a floor length gown of bridal satin. The tucked bodice was styled with a bateau neckline trimmed with lace and sequins. The full skirt was accented with a large butterfly bow and fell into a lovely train. Her bouffant veil fell from a crown of iridescent crystals. She carried an arrangement of white cymbidium orchids with ivy and lily of the valley, centered on a white satin prayer book.

For the reception in the auditorium the serving table, skirted with satin net, had as a centerpiece a three tiered wedding cake. Tall candelabra also graced the serving table. Mrs. Frank McKenny, O'Neill, presided at the serving table. Mrs. Otto Fieling, Plainview and Mrs. Arlow Lichly, Brunswick, cut the cake. Mrs. Claude Armbruster and Mrs. Robert Wies, both of Brunswick, served the punch. Mrs. Emil Schulte, Brunswick, was hostess.

Jeannie Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Simmons, Hastings, placed first in the teen division of a Young Style Makers Dress Revue held recently at the city auditorium. Jeannie modeled a dress she sewed this summer. The style revue was the first such experience for Miss Simmons, 12, who competed with twenty other girls in her division. Miss Simmons is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sobotka sr., O'Neill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards announce the engagement of their daughter, Roberta Jane, to Harold J. Sobotka. Miss Edwards was a graduate of Valentine high school in 1960 and is now employed at Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. Her fiance who is the son of John Sobotka, Inman, was graduated from Inman high school, attended Norfolk Junior College and was graduated from Elkins Institute of Radio Technology at Dallas, Texas. He is now employed as an announcer and engineer at Radio KVSH in Valentine.

The wedding date has been set for September 22 at St. Nicholas Catholic church in Valentine.

A Poem From Mrs. Eby ...

—Children In Other Lands—
They never seem quite real to me. They are so far away; can they see this same moon by night, the same sun all day? Are children everywhere the same although the world is wide? Though some of them have darker skins, are they like me inside?
I have so much they do not have, these darker girls and boys. I wish that I could send to them some of my games and toys. They do not have snug pretty homes, nor warm clothes to wear; some of them haven't any beds but just sleep anywhere.
And some have only ragged clothes with no shoes on their feet; then some are hungry for they have not half enough to eat. But oh, the worst of all is this—they do not have like me, the dear Lord Jesus in their hearts to live; because, you see, Nobody's gone to tell of Him and so how could they know? Poor little darker boys and girls. Oh! Please won't somebody go?
