It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that...

NEBRASKANS were jubilant when Abraham Lincoln, on July 2, signed the bill for the first railroad in Nebraska. Throughout the territory the good news was cheered with steins of foaming beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer has contributed more than just pleasure. Besides providing employment to many Nebraskans, the brewing industry utilizes many of the products grown on Nebraska farms, greatly contributing to the state's economy.

TODAY in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

ALL kinds of people belong to cooperatives. They live in cities, towns, and on farms. They are businessmen, laborers, professional men, farmers. They have organized cooperatives because it is a way of working together to get a big job done. They supply the money that's necessary, they share ownership, they control the business themselves... and they share the benefits. Cooperatives are the people's own businesses... lock, stock and barrel.
