Dictionary--An Important Book

If one were to be stranded on a faraway island with a limited number of books for his entertainment and edification he would be lucky indeed if one of these books happened to be a dictionary.

If we could have a sensitive friend with us with an open mind -- and an open face -- it would be fun to try out a few words and phrases on him just to see his facial barometer register his emotional reaction.

We might say blonde, curvaceous, bikini, moonlite and watch him register longing and appreciation. Or -- tender, rare, fried, buttered, crunchy, mocha, pie, cool, aged, refreshing. We'd try these for salivary response.

How about fireplace, decanter, slippers, solitude and Esquire? We could bring our man out of this mood with bottle, feeding, vapo-rub, safety pin, and to further shock him blizzard, chains, overshoes, stuck. And so our receptive man runs the emotional scale of words.

Even the insensitive among us must thrill to such words as Avalon, Cambodia, sloup, vacation, fragrant, Weatherby, or Bossa Nova.

Where lives there a newspaper man who doesn't shudder when he hears the words fire, murder, scandal, libel and balance due.

If our man on the far away island were to grow old there, he might need a little more than a dictionary, say a harmonica or at least a jews harp for it is pretty inevitable that his final play on words would include these stinkers -- senior citizen, vitamin, hospital, x-ray and survivors.

Still, maybe not on an island -- it's possible that one could slip away with just that nice "Bon Voyage".

Even notice how many more times "I" gets into the act in criticize than in sympathize? The next time you're feeling especially critical of the actions of the school board, city council or Chamber of Commerce, try removing a couple of those "I's" from the conversation. Try putting yourself in their position -- you may find that sympathize, not criticize is the word you were looking for after all.

PENNSBURG, PA., TOWN AND COUNTRY: "We were shocked the other day when a man remarked that he didn't 'bother' to advertise his services in this newspaper because everybody in the area knows what his business is and where to find him if they want him! The person who uttered this heresy obviously never heard the old refrain: 'The man who whispers down a well about the goods he has to sell, doesn't rake in lots of dollars like the one who stands and hollers!'"

A playful English shepherd bob-tailed dog bit Arlene Potter, 8, in the mouth, about 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Facial swelling set in immediately and the girl was rushed to St. Anthony's hospital. Little Freddie Asher escaped without serious results when he mistakenly ate a laxative for a chocolate bar while staying with his grandparents, who rushed him to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jansen were honored at a dinner in their home for their 49th wedding anniversary given by their relatives and friends. The O'Neill Future Farmers of America judging team placed third in statewide competition at the Old Reliable Hereford Association show and sale. The 99th birthday dinner for Charles Fauquier ended Friday in sadness. Mr. Fauquier having been exhausted from receiving guests fell to the floor as he attempted to get up from the davenport. He was taken to the O'Neill hospital.

An 18 year old Eskimo boy whose home in the Arctic Circle in the land of the igloos and dog sleds, arrived here in O'Neill last Thursday afternoon. He is Percy Ipalook, who is making his home with Mayor and Mrs. D. C. Schaffer, while he finishes his senior year of schooling. Terry Hynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Hynes, has been named boys' starter for 1963 by Simonson Post 93 of the American Legion. He is a St. Mary's academy junior. Backed by many prominent and civic minded ranchers and veterans of the original O'Neill Saddle club, a new rodeo association has been formed. It will be known as the O'Neill Rodeo association. Orville "Stub" Miller has been appointed a member of the O'Neill police department, it was announced by Mayor Schaffer. A record crowd of 470 members and guests registered for the 24th annual meeting of the O'Neill Production credit association, held Saturday.

Omaha Wednesday. Mr. Barnum expects to run up a new Studebaker "25". Friday evening the son of G. W. Hill of Dumas was shot seriously injured by a bronco while rearing the animal hay. Dr. Gill reports the arrival of a ten pound boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gibson, Tuesday, Feb. 11. Leslie Hough and Clark Calhoun started for Norfolk Wednesday. They will remain there a short time to learn the auto business. The largest crowd ever reported at any sale was in attendance at M. L. Wintermotes Tuesday. Every thing brought a good price. Clark Hough made a business trip to Norfolk last week and traded some of his land for two Ford cars.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

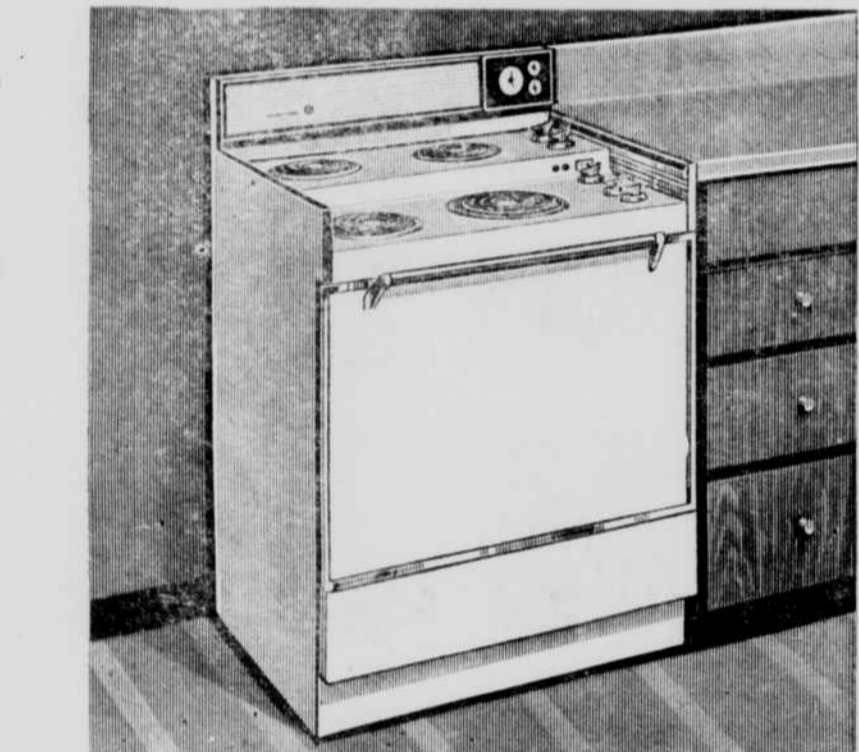

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sports car, Corvette--now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already? The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

with the brand-new, all-new Westinghouse TERRACE TOP ELECTRIC RANGE

It's revolutionary! The new Westinghouse Electric Terrace Top range gives you two cooking levels. The front, three inches below counter top, is perfect for cooking foods that need stirring and beating. You'll use the units on the back level for cooking foods that need less attention, like soups and stews. Has side-mounted controls with single dial oven control. This Westinghouse is easiest to clean, too. Surface units lift up and out. Oven heaters plug out and the oven door lifts off. Come in! Let us demonstrate these and the many other features of the new Westinghouse Electric Terrace Top range. You can be sure... if it's Westinghouse.
