LETTERS to the Editor Dear Editor, The legal voters of the Inman School District are taking a straw vote this week to help determine the future of their school. They will be voting on the four possible solutions as presented by Mel Olson, State Department of Education. These four possible solutions have been previously publicized. A fifth alternative needs serious consideration by all legal voters in the Inman district before they vote on the four proposals. This fifth solution would be the legal formation of a Class VI school such as is now being formed by a group of districts around Grand Island and Cozad.

A vote to join a K-12 district could close the door permanently to the many advantages of a Class VI district. Many residents of nearby high schools and Class I rural schools are considering the advantages of a Class VI school. As Inman goes, so may all the surrounding area be forced to go. Here are some of the facts in

LETTERS to the Editor Dear Editor, The legal voters of the Inman School District are taking a straw vote this week to help determine the future of their school. They will be voting on the four possible solutions as presented by Mel Olson, State Department of Education. These four possible solutions have been previously publicized. A fifth alternative needs serious consideration by all legal voters in the Inman district before they vote on the four proposals. This fifth solution would be the legal formation of a Class VI school such as is now being formed by a group of districts around Grand Island and Cozad.

A vote to join a K-12 district could close the door permanently to the many advantages of a Class VI district. Many residents of nearby high schools and Class I rural schools are considering the advantages of a Class VI school. As Inman goes, so may all the surrounding area be forced to go. Here are some of the facts in regard to a Class VI school. A. The legal aspects as taken from the NEBRASKA SCHOOL LAWS, 1961-62, pp. 251-254:

1. Four or more adjoining school districts may unite for the purpose of forming one high school district subject to the approval of the participating districts.

2. It is formed upon petition of 55% of the legal voters residing in such districts.

3. Petitions to be presented to the county superintendent or superintendents, as such a district may cross county lines.

4. The district shall be governed by a board of education elected from the entire district and shall be organized and have the same duties as a board of education in class 2 high school districts.

5. Such district can be discontinued by 55% of the legal voters voting at an annual or special meeting providing notice has been given.

6. Class VI district can become a junior-senior high district by a 55% "yes" vote of legal voters voting at an annual or special meeting providing notice has been given.

7. Approximately 20 such districts are now in existence in Nebraska, and others are in the process of formation. The average mill levy for operating Class VI schools in Nebraska is around 10 mills.

B. The approximate present valuation of the schools in the eastern Holt county area are:

Inman $ 952,000.00
Free High District 170,000.00
Total 1,122,000.00
Page 962,000.00
Free High District 920,000.00
Total 1,882,000.00
Ewing 1,353,000.00
Free High District 1,417,000.00
Total 2,770,000.00
Orchard 1,800,000.00
Free High District 350,000.00
Total 2,150,000.00

Grand Total approx. 7,924,000.00

O'Neill evaluation is approximately $5,100,000. O'Neill could become the center of a Class VI school district. Many other county seat towns have seen the advantage of such an arrangement.

C. Major advantages of such a district:

1. It guarantees local control of the grade school which joining a K-12 district cannot do. A local grade school would be operated by a local board of education elected by the people of the grade school district. Such a district could provide bus transportation and noon lunch facilities.

2. It guarantees a voice in the education of our high school children, for a board of education is elected from the superimposed high school district to operate the Class VI high school. This would give more voice than a city K-12 district would give.

3. This high school district has the authority to provide transportation and a noon lunch program for the students of the district which a K-12 district does not have to provide. High school students could live at home and thus help preserve family life in the home and permit participation in the local community activities. Buses could run from the elementary school to the high school.

4. The program of school activities would be geared to rural living rather than to city life. Thus the children could take more advantage of the enlarged educational opportunity than they could if they were a part of a K-12 district geared to city life.

5. Distances for each individual rural family to drive to attend school activities would not be so great as they would be if the district should become a part of a city K-12 district. Provision could be made for releasing certain portions of a district which were closer to another high school center if the patrons so desired.

6. A very carefully prepared course of study could be made available to each grade district by the superintendent of the central high school. Each district could have representation on a committee for the purpose of correlating all of the activities of the various schools involved.

7. The high school pupils from one grade school would all attend the same high school, thus helping to strengthen the local community. The individual parents would not be put in a position whereby they might have to beg some high school to educate their children as is the case with some districts now.

8. The individual student could have all of the advantages in a Class VI high school which are offered him in a K-12 district, such as a broader course of study, music, dramatics, a complete phys. ed. program and an opportunity to associate and work with students from other communities. Inman School Patrons

REGULAR SALE MONDAY, MAR. 18

We had a real good sale last Monday, even if prices were somewhat lower. Had a very active market on all classes of livestock. Most of the fat cattle brought from $19 to $21. We will be having another fat cattle sale sometime in the future. — Top on butcher hogs, $14.45 — Most of hogs brought over $14.25. — If you have any livestock, you want to sell, call us and we will be happy to come out to your place and give you some idea what it will bring on our market. It makes no difference how large or small the consignment. — SATURDAY, APRIL 6 will be our annual combination sale. We have good machinery listed but can use a lot more. Bring anything you have to sell. Also we will have dairy calves, cows and some horses.
