BILL ROSE, Ainsworth, forward 6' 2" 11
 BENNY COOL, Valentine, guard 5' 8" 12
 JIM STRATE, Bassett, center 6' 4" 12
 DON BARTHELOMEW, Ainsworth, guard 5' 8" 11
 IVAN HURLEY, O'Neill, forward 6' 3" 10

The sports staff of the Frontier names their selections for the All-Eastern Rangeland Conference basketball team as follows:

FIRST TEAM

RICHARD HILL — O'Neill: The top scorer and rebounder in the conference, Big Rich averaged 23 points a game against Rangeland foes. Last season the big fella set the conference scoring record and the school record when he netted 51 points against Bassett. Hill also set the school individual rebounding record in one game by clearing the boards 29 times at Ord early this season. A must on any area team.

JIM CONNICK — Bassett: Despite his size, this 5' 7" tiger led his team in scoring the past three seasons. Heralded by his coach as "a constant hustler" and a playmaker deluxe, Connick averaged 15 points a game for the Rock County squad.

GENE HAMILTON — Ainsworth: A varsity player since his freshman year, Hamilton has been the Bulldog's top scorer for the last three years. Gene's ability to hit from out and his exceptional ability to drive made him probably the toughest player in the area on his better nights. Despite his erratic performance this season, Hamilton is a mainstay on any conference squad.

TERRY KURTZ — O'Neill: This 5' 11" veteran played a leading role in the Eagles' repeat performance as the conference champs. With an 11 point average in Rangeland competition, Kurtz was a steady rebounder and a constant scoring threat from the floor. His 18 points against Bassett this season highlighted his scoring output for Coach Don Kokrd's Eagles.

DON NELSON — Valentine: This season's leading Badger scorer, Nelson's 22 points stopped the O'Neill High crew in the 61-58 upset at Valentine. A consistent rebounder and scorer, Don carried on the fine court tradition of older brother Dennis. The 6' 3" senior was at his best under pressure.

IVAN HURLEY — O'Neill: The fact that he was a sophomore is the only reason this 6' 3" hustler didn't crack the starting lineup. A two-year starter for the Eagles, young Ivan was the team's second high rebounder and scorer. Sporting a 13 point average in the conference, Hurley collaborated with Big Rich Hill to control the boards for the OHS squad. Ivan grabbed 21 rebounds the night that Hill pulled down 29 at Ord. The underclassman's 30 point performance in the conference play-off at Gordon was the top scoring game for an Eagle in Rangeland play. Unlimited potential.

BILL ROSE — Ainsworth: Second high scorer for Coach Marv Boesen's Bulldogs, Rose connected on over 50% of his shots. His good moves and ability to go either way will make him a tough opponent his senior year.

BENNY COOL — Valentine: The floor general of the Badger squad, Benny proved to be all but cool from the floor. His steady scoring and heads-up defensive play inspired the Badgers through the season.

DON BARTHELOMEW — Ainsworth: A steady competitor and a hustler all the way, this Ainsworth junior always presented an outside scoring threat in conference play. Third high scorer for the Bulldogs with a 12 point average against Bassett the conference champs.

JIM STRATE — Bassett: Leading rebounder for Hoppy McCue's Tigers this season, Strate set a school record with 23 grabs in one game. Jim's 14 point average was second high for the Bassett club. He was elected honorary co-captain of the Tiger-men.

Players were considered by their performances in Rangeland competition this season. Cagers from Bassett, Ainsworth, Valentine, and O'Neill were eligible for the Eastern Conference squad.

The Frontier's congratulations are extended to all players and coaches in the conference who contributed to an exciting season.

Report from Washington

By Congressman Dave Martin Fourth District, Nebraska

Adam Clayton Powell, Chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor, on which I serve, came out second best on his request for $697,000 for the operation of the Committee for the next two years. The House Administration Committee, which must approve this request for funds, trimmed his request down to $200,000 for one year, divided as follows: $69,000 for each of the six subcommittees and $50,000 for the entire main Committee.

The Committee Resolution was then brought up on the Floor of the House for approval by the members. Mr. Powell was not present, but in Puerto Rico, reportedly down with the flu. The House sustained the cut in funds recommended by the Committee without a single member of Mr. Powell's Party defending his actions in the spending of funds during the last Congress. Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt, a member of the Committee, had asked for two hours of time to defend the Chairman on the Floor of the House. When the time came, however, he merely said: "In view of the action just taken by the House, there does not seem to be much point in continuing this particular discussion." Neither he, nor any member of the House, had a kind word for the Chairman.

The positive actions promised by the President, as a candidate for the office, have not resulted in solving some of our problems. His policies in Europe seem to be encountering great difficulties; Cuba continues to be a problem; unemployment has now increased to over 6% in the country; and there seems to be more concern over a budget deficit than over a tax cut. In other words, the President's problems are mounting, and the people do not agree with his recommendations — all of which boil down to more spending.

Our people want reduced spending and a balanced budget — not tax reductions and a larger deficit. Our people want a positive aggressive action toward Cuba, not vacillating policy which allows the problem to worsen. The American people want the facts revealed to them, not a managed press giving them only the information which some bureaucrats feel should be divulged.

Events in the Cuban fiasco of two years ago are still coming to light. It has now been revealed that four Americans lost their lives in the Bay of Pigs action and that the National Guard in Alabama was in charge of the "tactical air operations" for the invasion. Albert C. Persons, Managing Editor of the Birmingham Examiner, in an article in the Chicago American, stated that eighteen American airmen were hired to fly in the invasion. The recruiters, according to Persons, represented themselves as being with a company under contract to one of the Cuban exile groups. We all believed then, and believe now, that the men who hired us were representatives of the U. S. Government. The widows of the Four Alabama airmen killed in the invasion receive weekly checks from an unknown source. It is all very mysterious and confusing. The whole story about Cuba has still not been told. The record proposed Federal Budget of $99 billion for Fiscal 1964 will bring a tax burden of $32 on the average American. Nebraska's share of the Budget amounts to $662 million,
