

Report from Washington

By Congressman Dave Martin
Fourth District, Nebraska

At a hearing on government managed news before a Government Operations Subcommittee, Clark Mollenhoff of Cowles Publications centered his fire on Arthur Sylvester, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, picturing Sylvester as a "symbol" of the whole news management problem. Sylvester in a speech in New York on December 6, 1962 said that a government has an inherent right "to lie to save itself" in an international crisis. This statement by a high official in the Defense Department simply confirms that we do have a "managed" news policy in Washington and that it was used during the Bay of Pigs fiasco two years ago and again during the Cuban crisis last October. In this Republic of ours, under our Constitution, this is not the American way; this is contrary to tradition; and this runs counter to the proposition that the American people, if given the facts, are not afraid to face a problem nor to attempt to solve it. Mr. Sylvester should be fired from his position of power for his effrontery to the American people.

Mrs. Frances P. Bolton, 13-term Congresswoman from Cleveland, Ohio, is now receiving returns from the annual questionnaire which she sends out in her District. One of her questions was: "Do you favor or oppose including labor unions under antitrust laws?" Over 16,000 have replied thus far and 75% favor this legislation, 10% oppose it and 15% are not sure. This is the Cleveland area with a great deal of labor. A nation-wide poll last fall by the Institute of Public Opinion of Princeton, N. J., showed that 62% of the people throughout the nation favor this type of legislation.

As you know, I have introduced legislation which would bring the international labor unions under the provisions of the Sherman Act and other antitrust laws. My bill would restore control of the union movement to the locals and take it out of the hands of the Jimmy Hoffas, Walter Reuthers, MacDonaldis (steel), etc. Contrary to lies being circulated by some of the labor leaders, my bill would still allow labor to strike; and it would NOT affect the pension and welfare funds presently set up by the unions. It would NOT prevent collective bargaining; it would NOT eliminate such guarantees as sick leave pay, vacation pay, etc.; it would NOT eliminate overtime pay, as charged in a recent issue of the CWA published in Omaha. It is sickening to read the complete lies and falsehoods put out by the unions to their members. Abraham Lincoln said, "You can fool some of the people part of the time but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." The untruths told by some of our union leaders cast doubt on the sincerity and faith of all union leaders. They are lying to protect their own skins.

Imports of beef into the United States have now reached almost 10% of our total production and 20% of mutton. This is enough to adversely affect the profit of our ranchers and feeders. The duty today on beef is only 3c per pound. The bill which I have introduced would increase this duty on imports of all dressed meats to a 25% ad valorem basis — a considerably higher duty which would tend to reduce the amount of meat imports into this country. There are those in Washington who use this as an argument to bring the cattle industry under the agricultural program. I am completely opposed to this move to stifle another segment of free enterprise in this country. I do feel very strongly, however, that our domestic meat industry should have some protection from imports which totaled 1 billion 700 million pounds in 1962.

The Third District does not have a vacancy at either the Air Force Academy or the Military Academy in 1964, inasmuch as we presently have the maximum quota of cadets allowed at one time attending these academies. Young men interested in the U.S. Naval Academy, Coast Guard Academy, or the Merchant Marine Academy in 1964 should write me at: 208 House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C. Applications to compete for appointment are now being accepted from young men between the ages of 17 and 21 who are unmarried and legal residents of the Third District.

Visitor from the District this week was Elmer Juracek, O'Neill.
