A Poem From Mrs. Eby . . .
Discouragement
 Elijah was tired and discouraged, and went to the wilderness alone. He told God all his troubles, then he began to moan. He sat down under a juniper tree and prayed the Lord to let him die and be free. When he was tired and discouraged, that's when the devil appears, and magnifies our troubles, and enlarges our fears. If we lose our sky, we'll soon lose our earth and forget the joy of that glorious new birth. But Elijah still listened to his defeated will and felt his life was just somehow always to fail. Then came a still small voice while he interceded, reminding him his work was sorely needed. So God rested and returned him to the work he thought was done, informed him he needed work had only just begun. Till his hour strikes to this thought we must cling, as long as we live we're serving the King. The tempter takes advantage when our spirits are low, to make us believe it's our time to go. He loves to fish in troubled section, but juniper trees are poor protection. And down by the brook God sent ravens to feed him till he came back close to Him in trusting prayer. It's always best to have things settled by faith before they are settled by feeling. Della Stuart Eby

How much does it cost to feed a fly?

ENTOMOLOGISTS estimate that a severe infestation of horn flies costs the cattleman an average of $3.43 per animal in lost gains...$343 on every hundred head of cattle! And it's all profit, dollars you can save with CUDAHY's new BAR-FLY feeds.

As cattle eat, CUDAHY's BAR-FLY passes harmlessly through the digestive system—destroys horn and face fly larvae on the ground, before they reach the fly stage, before they throw cattle off gain. Don't "feed" cattle profits to flies. Feed CUDAHY's BAR-FLY, prevent fly losses automatically!
