Zum Weitertrinken Einladend

(INVITING TO FURTHER DRINKING)

How do you brew a beer to be "inviting to further drinking"? We do it with a little patience. We age Triumph slowly and carefully, month after month, to give this old-time lager a traditional old-world taste. To make it a sudsy brew that's good going down.

Triumph's natural sparkle keeps its taste awake. And so does the creamy crown of foam that follows the beer down the glass.

These are the kind of things that make Triumph "inviting to further drinking." And that's a nice way for beer to be, don't you think?
